Speedsters Ken Barlow, 11, and sister Joan, 10, children of Const. and Mrs. J. W. Barlow, 2523 Asquith, will carry Victoria colors in soap box derby here Labor Day. Racing starts at 9, and Yates Street course will be closed to parking between Camosun to Vancouver from 7 a.m. to noon, according to police. (See Labor Day week-end events on Page 13, derby entry forms Page 5.)

Government to Survey Milk Control Methods

Agriculture Minister Kenneth Kiernan believes that government control of the milk industry must continue, but he is launching an all-embracing survey of business to determine what changes may be needed in the system.

Until this is completed, proposals such as a differential price between cash and carry store sales and home-delivered milk will remain in abeyance.

The minister said today the study will take considerable time because of the many factors involved.

One of the first moves, already under way, is the setting up of a uniform system of accounting among distributors. The work is being done by British Columbia Milk Board accountants.

The uniform accounting system will give the government a yardstick with which to measure the facts in the case, and enable a clearer look at the whole picture.

Mr. Kiernan's study will cover the quality, supply and price factors.

The minister said he thinks, personally, that control of the milk industry must be continued in some form, adding there is no question about the desirability of the continuance of the B.C. Milk Board.

In reply to the B.C. Federation of Agriculture recommendation that the board operate independent of the cabinet, the minister said he could see no advantage in such a move. It had operated as an independent unit at one time, but didn't prove satisfactory, he said.

The deputy chief said that motorists must bring their vehicles to a halt while children are in marked "stop while occupied" crosswalks, but also urged them to do the same thing in school areas where crossings have not as yet been marked.

Mr. Kiernan said he believes in the past too much emphasis has been placed on the price factor in connection with the milk problem.

The three main considerations are quality, supply and price, he noted, adding that there has to be assurance that there is a reasonable supply of good quality milk before the price factor becomes involved.

"If there is too much emphasis on price, it is quite possible the supply will dry up," said Mr. Kiernan. "All the emphasis so far seems to have been placed on price and that's a distorted picture. Availability of supply to the consumer is also an important factor."

Oil Company which Iran nationalized last year. British willingness to relax the blockade on the Iranian oil industry as part of a general settlement was also indicated by Middleton.

A move of this sort would enable Iran to earn between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000 quickly by selling the 2,000,000 tons of oil and oil products now stored in Abadan's huge storage tanks.

Britain in the past has claimed this stored oil to be A.I.O.C. property.

The joint Anglo-American approach followed intensive talks between London and Washington on the Iranian situation. Those talks were said to have produced an Anglo-American understanding that Mossadeq must be supported in office as being the best available way of avoiding a possible Communist coup.

CARPENTER STRIKE

The Labor Relations Board is "in the dark" regarding a move by Victoria Contractors' Association to seek a government-supervised vote on a "back-to-work" offer to carpenters of $1.90 per hour.

"All we know is what we read in the papers," an official said today. "They have not approached us yet."

The association, in an announcement

ment Tuesday, said it was prepared to pay $1.90 per hour to carpenters prepared to return to work, on condition that a government-supervised vote on acceptance be called by the Labor Relations Board.

"Our executive never even bothered considering it," said Arthur Leam, secretary of the carpenters' union here.

"As for that offer of $1.90, we held a government-supervised vote on the offer prior to the strike, and the vote was greatly in favor of refusing it," he said.

The association's announcement came in the midst of discussions between the union and Victoria Builders Exchange Ltd., major construction group in the city that employs the majority of carpenters, that Labor Relations Board officials called "very harmonious."

Mr. Leam also objected to the carpenters' union being blamed for delaying school openings in Greater Victoria.

"We never picketed Craigflower or View Royal Schools," he said, "and the contractor working on those jobs employs non-union men. There was little we could do about it."

GIRL KILLED AS BICYCLES IN COLLISION

Campbell River Accident Fatal

A 12-year-old Campbell River girl died in hospital there Tuesday night four hours after she had become involved in an unusual two-bicycle collision.

She was Elsie Gregor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gregor of the up-Island town. The father is employed by the Argonaut Iron Mines Corporation.

R.C.M.P. officers said the youngster was in collision with a bicycle ridden by Thomas and Derrick Russell, aged 19 and 18, at 7:15 p.m. on 11th Avenue.

Police said Elsie banged heads with one of the Russell boys.

STILL CONSCIOUS

She remained conscious for a time at the home of Mrs. Alice Parkin, mother of a second girl who was on another bicycle riding with Elsie at the time. Finally Elsie was rushed to hospital, where she died about four hours later.

An inquest will be held Thursday at 10:30 a.m. Dr. P. E. Lewis, coroner, presiding.

Eden, Bride Return From Honeymoon

LONDON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and his bride of two weeks arrived home today after a honeymoon in Portugal.

The deputy Conservative party leader and Mrs. Eden—a niece of Prime Minister Winston Churchill—smiled and waved at photographers who greeted them at London airport.

"There is nothing special to say about our holiday," Eden told reporters.

Alberta Polio Deaths Lead West Canada

EDMONTON, Aug. 27 (CP)—

Three more polio deaths were reported today in Alberta, raising the 1952 provincial toll to 22, highest in western Canada.

The victims were a two-year-old girl at St. Paul, a girl of 16 at Big Coulee near Athabasca and a 13-year-old girl from Calgary's suburban Montgomery. St. Paul and Big Coulee are in north-eastern Alberta.

(Eleven more polio cases in the last 24 hours have swollen B.C. cases to 174, the provincial health department reported today. The death toll still stands at 17—five more than in 1947, the province's worst polio year. Most of the 11 new cases since Tuesday were in lower mainland area. None were in the hard-hit Kimberley area.)

The latest Alberta deaths raised western Canada's death toll from the disease so far this year to 66.

The Alberta health department today also reported nine new cases to bring the province's total to 288. Manitoba, which has had 10 deaths, reported eight new cases. It now has had 157 confirmed cases and 95 suspects.

Saskatchewan lists 365 cases and 17 deaths.

SAANICH MOURNS 'NAT' GRAY

Widely Known Postmaster Was Masonic Past Master

Nathaniel "Nat" Gray, well-known postmaster of Saanich, died at the Veterans' Hospital here Monday. He was 62 years old.

Mr. Gray was one of the best known postmasters on South Vancouver Island, having lived in Saanich most of his life. He served as captain with the 8th Battalion during First World War and was past president of the Saanich Peninsula Branch of the Canadian Legion.

He was also past master of the Mount Newton Lodge, No. 89, A.F. & A.M.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth; one daughter, Mrs. Patricia Farr, Barrie, Ont.; two sons, Harrison, Kingston, Ont., and Neil, of Montreal.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by McCall Bros.

SOUTH AFRICA'S NEW HIGH COURT SETS ASIDE RULING

PRETORIA, South Africa, Aug. 27 (Reuters)—South Africa's new high court of parliament today decided to set aside a decision of the appeal court which struck at the Malan government's policy of racial segregation.

The court, composed of members of the South African parliament, overruled the appeal court's finding that the separate representation of voters act was invalid. The act would have removed voters of mixed blood in Cape Province from a common roll with white voters.

Prime Minister Daniel Malan set up the high court of parliament as a result of the appeal court decision. The high court claims final authority in deciding the validity of constitutional legislation.

Guard Killed In Clash on Jordan Border

AMMAN, Jordan, Aug. 27 (AP)—Hashemite authorities said a small Israeli patrol crossed Jordan's border today but were beaten back by frontier guards who killed one Israeli and wounded two others. Jordan reported the incident to United Nations authorities, who sent an observer to the scene.

U.S. Improves Metals Supply

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—The United States today took copper and aluminum off its critical list and indicated an improving metal supply situation may permit a big boost in military and civilian production next year.

The defense production administration forecast a better supply of steel, copper and aluminum in early 1953.

Copper particularly has become more plentiful, partly because not so much of it was used by manufacturers during the steel strike.

'Shockingly Immoral' U.S. Foreign Policy Blamed

Compiled From UP and AP Dispatches

BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 27—John Foster Dulles charged the Truman administration today with conducting a foreign policy which is both "shockingly immoral" and a strategic failure. It would permit Russia to encircle and enfeeble the west, Dulles said.

The Republican foreign policy advisor made two broad criticisms of American policy in a speech prepared for delivery before the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association.

That over-concentration on the defense of western Europe is "suicidal" and plays into Stalin's hands for the purpose of both strategy and propaganda.

The policy of "containment" of Russia-dominated territory has "contained" only American influence and can "snuff out" the internal resistance which is the best means to break up the Communist empire.

He quoted President Truman, Mutual Security Administrator Averell Harriman and his own presidential candidate, Dwight D. Eisenhower, in support of his belief that "our nation today stands in the greatest potential danger it has ever faced."

"As things are going now," Dulles said, Russia will succeed in encircling the west "to such a degree that it would have little will or capacity to resist."

The only alternative way to stop Soviet Communism, he said, was by a "frightful head-on collision."

Dulles said the Soviets traditionally believed the "road to victory in the West" lay through Asia—particularly China—and that non-Western and non-white peoples could not be treated as "second-class expendables" if the West wanted to survive in a free world.

He called upon the U.S. to pay more attention to the peoples and problems of Asia, Africa and South America, and to abandon as a failure its program of "containing" Communism.

"The empire of Soviet Communism can be disintegrated from within," Dulles said, adding:

"Already it is over-extended, covering 800,000,000 people of what were recently 19 different independent nations. The structure could be cracked by passive resistance, slow-downs and non-cooperation."

"That would happen if our nation would today exert the same type of influence in the world that we exerted during the first century of the republic. At that time we symbolized freedom, and we gave moral and sometimes material support to those elsewhere who sought liberty."

The only alternative way to stop Soviet Communism, he said, was by a "frightful head-on collision."

Dulles said the Soviets traditionally believed the "road to victory in the West" lay through Asia—particularly China—and that non-Western and non-white peoples could not be treated as "second-class expendables" if the West wanted to survive in a free world.

Present Policy 'Suicidal'

The chief architect of the Japanese peace treaty said present foreign policy involved "race discrimination on a global scale" by concentrating on the defense of predominantly white Western Europe.

"That is a wrong policy and, in the face of the Soviet program of encirclement, it is a suicidal policy," he said.

Dulles said the U.S., by arming for international war and concentrating on Western Europe, enabled Soviet propagandists to portray Americans as warmongers interested only in defending white peoples.

"That is a wrong policy and, in the face of the Soviet program of encirclement, it is a suicidal policy," he said.

Dulles said the U.S., by arming for international war and concentrating on Western Europe,

Nine Escape Death

Nine men escaped death when 18-year-old bush pilot Bob Shinnie of Winnipeg landed this Bellanca float plane on one float in a stubble field near Riverland, Man. The other float was damaged and a water landing was impossible. The plane skidded 75 feet on the single float then flipped over. Keith Jonasson, eight, examines the wreckage.

United States silver coins circulating in Victoria are causing growing confusion.

A few large stores and hotels are still treating U.S. coins like Canadian money; but many other establishments are either refusing to accept U.S. silver altogether or are discounting it, a survey today revealed. The confusion arises from the varying discount policies.

The post office Tuesday announced it would refuse to accept any United States silver coins.

DEFENSE—In Fort Lewis, Wash., civil defense volunteers and troops will be called out for future defense training exercises if recommendations of the Washington state director of civil defense are followed.

The director, D. E. Barbey, was among the 63 civilian and military officials from the Pacific northwest and Canada who attended a civil defense critique Tuesday.

They discussed the simulated civil defense exercise held Aug. 23-24. The project was on paper and only staff officials of the civil defense and armed forces took part.

Barbey proposed that future exercises be made more real by calling out the civil defense volunteers and using actual troops.

TRIBUTE—In Vancouver tribute was paid here to the "great and growing tradition" of the Canadian Navy by Vice-Admiral Sir William Andrews, deputy commander of Supreme Atlantic Command.

"I saw the Canadian tradition grow in nine or ten months in Korea," Sir William said Tuesday. "A bit of it is ours; and that is good. Much of it is yours, and that is good, for each navy must build a tradition."

He said that when the first three Canadian ships steamed out to join "those wise people whose object was to stem this tide of enemy advance they were a Canadian unit. But soon they went their separate ways, did special jobs."

TETE-A-TETE—In New York, Senator Robert Taft of Ohio said today he probably will meet with Dwight D. Eisenhower shortly after Sept. 10 to discuss the senator's role in the Republican presidential campaign.

Taft said in an interview by telephone from his Murray Bay, Que., vacation spot that he expects to speak for Eisenhower and the Republican ticket but doesn't know yet how extensive his campaigning will be.

The Ohio senator was defeated for the nomination by Eisenhower at the party convention in July.

Taft said he and his wife will fly from Murray Bay, arriving in Washington Sept. 8.

ORDER—In London, F. Perkins Ltd. of Peterborough, England, announced today it has received a $1,250,000 order from the Canadian government for 1,355 six-cylinder diesel engines.

The statement said these engines will be fitted in Canadian-built vehicles and represent part of the Commonwealth governments' Colombo Aid plan to India.

Chassis and engines will be sent direct to India from Canada and Britain, respectively, and will be assembled in Bombay.

Girl With Spying Friend Expelled by Communists

LONDON, Aug. 27 (AP)—A pretty English girl said today she was expelled from the Communist party for refusing to give up a boy friend who spied on British Reds for Scotland Yard. The couple say they're going to get married, go to Canada to live, and ignore politics.

The girl is Mary Johnson, 22-year-old daughter of a Church of England vicar at the village church of Ratcliffe-on-the-Wreake. The boy friend is Tony Mathews, 21, a student from Belfast, Northern Ireland.

The Communist party of Britain exposed Mathews as an anti-Red fifth columnist and kicked him out last June.

Miss Johnson got her walking papers Monday in London's Communist Daily Worker, which published her photograph over a warning to its readers that her party card had been revoked.

The couple will be married by Miss Johnson's father. And then, Mathews told interviewers at the vicarage, "we will go to Canada and live a peaceful life, with politics barred." They did not say where they would settle in Canada.

Mathews said he is personally a strong anti-Communist and joined the party last year for the sole purpose of picking up information about its activities.

Miss Johnson made it plain that she is not disavowing Communism.

"I will not be a rat, a renegade or a traitor," she told reporters heatedly.

"I will not let myself become an anti-Communist story. Her mother shrugged her shoulders and said: 'They train them well in the Communist party.'"

Conference
Details SetArrangements for Economic-Financial Conference of Ministers Near Completion

LONDON, Aug. 27 (CP)—Preliminary arrangements for the economic-financial conference of Commonwealth ministers to be held in London next November are nearing completion, it was learned today.

Results of the spadework will be passed on to a special committee expected to deliberate soon on the form of a draft agenda.

At the close of these discussions, members of the committee will return to their own countries for further talks with ministers.

Sources closely connected with the conference organization report that an important shift in the approach to the conference has been suggested by Canada. This, they say, stresses the need for consideration by the conference not only of external factors affecting the sterling area's balance-of-payments difficulties, but the area's domestic policies.

Conference planners are expected to embody this proposal in the draft agenda, likely to revolve around the following headings:

1. Position of sterling-area reserves and measures necessary to raise and maintain them at a level at which convertibility would be practical.

2. Internal and external investments in the Commonwealth.

3. Internal financial policies of Commonwealth countries as they affect the general balance of payments.

4. Imperial preference and policy relating to the general agreements on trade and tariffs.

It is hoped the conference will lead to a long-term agreement on Commonwealth economic-financial policies, which would serve as a basis for early trade talks with representatives of the United States and European countries.

Commenting on this, the Conservative London Morning Telegraph suggests an approach should be made to the United States for tariff concessions on British exports as well as long-

To Act in Wage Dispute With Railways

(Special to The Times)

OTTAWA, Aug. 27—Chief Justice Gordon Sloan of the B.C. Court of Appeal has declined an invitation to head a board of conciliation on the railway wage dispute, it was learned here today.

The board was recommended by Arthur McNamara, deputy minister of labor, who acted unsuccessfully as conciliation officer between the National Railways and their non-operational unions who are seeking a 45 cents an hour wage increase for 125,000 workers across the nation at a total cost of $150,000,000.

Chief Justice Sloan was invited by Labor Minister Gregg to head the board because of his success in other labor disputes, it is understood. Mr. Sloan's reasons for declining the appointment were not disclosed.

'Combine' Charge

COBBLE HILL, Aug. 27—A review of the Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association claim that a transportation combine exists on Vancouver Island has been promised by Justice Minister Stuart Carson.

George E. Bonner, association president, was told in a letter from Mr. Carson that the charge will be referred to the commissioner of the Combines Investigation Act who will ascertain if an investigation should be made.

"The association believes a combine exists in rail, bus, truck and steamship transportation," Mr. Bonner said. "It is costing the people huge sums of money for transportation."

Canada's Trade Surplus Climbs

Favorable Six-Month Balance $164 Million Compared With Big Deficit One Year Ago

OTTAWA, Aug. 27 (CP)—Canada's surplus in foreign trade climbed to a six-year high of $164,400,000 in the first half of 1952, a marked contrast to a record deficit of $339,000,000 in the similar period last year.

In June, a continuing high level of trade produced a favorable balance of $54,600,000, a complete reversal of the unfavorable balance of $44,600,000 in June last year, the Bureau of Statistics reported today. The 1952 surplus was the biggest since the $194,000,000 surplus in the first half of 1946.

Completing its half-year estimates, the bureau placed total exports at a peak of $2,114,700,000, a gain from $1,762,600,000 in the first half of 1951 and more than five times greater than the pre-war total of $392,400,000 in 1938.

The 1952 exports record was achieved by a 17-per-cent boost in volume and a 2.5-per-cent gain in price. Volume of exports and imports was higher in the first six months than any similar period since the end of the Second World War.

The dollar value of imports slipped slightly in the half year to $1,950,300,000 from the peak of $2,102,400,000. But imports were higher than the $1,453,100,000 in 1950 and about six times greater than the $336,700,000 in prewar 1938.

The bureau estimated that though volume of imports increased by two per cent, prices slipped by nine per cent.

Stalled by 20c Pay Boost

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (AP)—A strike threat in eight Bethlehem steel shipyards was forestalled early today when an agreement for a 20-cent-an-hour pay increase was announced.

Spokesmen came out of a negotiating session more than 24 hours after a strike deadline to announce a new two-year contract for the C.I.O. shipbuilding workers in east-coast ports.

The boost, retroactive to April 14, increases the average pay to $2 per hour. Other provisions in the contract, scheduled to run until June 23, 1954, provide for six paid holidays, improved vacation schedules and a new form of 'union security'. The union figured the "package" increase at 25 1/2 cents.

The company estimated that 20,000 workers are involved in the contract as approved. A spokesman said negotiations will continue on contract provisions to cover other workers.

Union President John J. Grogan hailed the new contract as an "outstanding achievement."

Million-Dollar-a-Year Heroin Ring Is Smashed

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27 (AP)—A "million-dollar-a-year" heroin ring was reported smashed Tuesday by state narcotics agents, one of whom posed as a "vice king" as a lure to trap its three alleged members.

The arrests, described as the most important in northern California in a year and a half, climaxed six weeks of investigation, agents said.

George Maloney, supervising inspector of the California division of the narcotics enforcement, said the ring used a San Francisco Chinatown soy cake factory as a front for its huge wholesale operations.

Maloney credited agents Tony Gazzola and Louis Noel with

EGYPTIAN POLITICS AT HIGH PITCH

Developments Expected Hourly

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 27 (Reuters)—"Serious political developments" within 24 hours were forecast today by the Nationalist newspaper Al Misri.

The paper hinted at recent "important" meetings to discuss the army's land-reform plan. Gen. Mohammed Naguib, the commander-in-chief, had a three-hour meeting with Premier Ali Maher Sunday night.

Other political developments are foreseen by usually well-informed sources, who say the government may order reorganization of political parties. This would depend on progress of the parties' purge of corrupt elements.

After his talk with Naguib, Maher said Tuesday night he "hoped" elections might be held before February. The administration at present is a non-party one, formed after the deposition of King Farouk.

A French Communist journalist, Roger Vailland, arrested last week when police raided an Egyptian Communist meeting, has been released, it was announced today. He was cleared of complicity after investigations established he attended the meeting as a "simple observer."

Fulford Services For Island Logger

GANGES, Aug. 27 — Funeral services for Hugh Alexander Stewart, 29, Salt Spring Island logger fatally injured in a car accident Sunday, will be held Saturday at 1.30 at Fulford United Church.

Mr. Stewart's car turned over while he was driving from Ganges to Fulford to meet his wife. He was flown to Vancouver for treatment, but died in hospital shortly after arrival.

Canada's Grain Crop Three Times As Large as Space in Elevators

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27 (CP)—The Canadian wheat board today said "all agencies involved in the handling of grain in Canada must, for the second crop year in a row, plan for the movement of a maximum volume of grain."

The wheat board issued a statement to the grain trade on the "outlook for 1952-53."

The board estimated that in order to meet the handling task presented by crop and carry-over, last year's grain handle would have to be increased by "about 150,000,000 bushels."

Country-elevator capacity, including annexes, in the three prairie provinces total 290,000,000 bushels, without allowing for working space, the statement said.

To take delivery of the marketable stocks indicated for the 1952 crop, country elevator space would have to be turned over "at least three times."

The board statement warned that the turnover would require time, and could only be done "as rapidly as the railways could move grain out of country elevators as rapidly as unload space was available in terminals."

"It is apparent that producers will be making deliveries from the 1952 crop during the entire course of the crop year," the board said.

First consideration was to make space available for initial delivery quotas at all delivery points in the prairie provinces.

Threat to Hospital Insurance

IT IS OBVIOUS THAT THE BENNETT government is groping dimly for a hospital insurance policy, but it is not sufficient to say that its recent announcements are merely the indiscretions of a puzzled health minister. The government was elected on the proposition that universal, compulsory hospital insurance should be abolished in favor of some vague voluntary scheme, never explained to the voters and probably unknown to the Social Credit leaders. Now, in an obscure fashion, the government is moving in that direction.

This raises two distinct questions, one of constitution, one of practical policy. Constitutionally the government has no right whatever to tamper with the existing insurance system. In the election, with some 26 per cent of the first-choice vote, the Social Credit party received no mandate to institute a new system or, indeed, to introduce any new basic policies. In the legislature it does not control a majority. It cannot assume for a moment that any policy it cares to introduce will be supported by the legislature. On the contrary, if it attempts to destroy the present insurance system it cannot hope for the present legislature's approval. On such an issue it faces almost certain defeat in the legislature since the Liberal members could not repudiate the system which they built in office and defended in the election.

It may be that the government is courting defeat on this or some other issue in the legislature so that it may call a quick election in which it hopes to win a majority. But it is bound to submit its policy to the legislature before attempting to enforce it. It makes a mockery of the legislature and the constitution when, without public mandate or legislative approval, it quietly undermines the existing system and in fact makes new laws without the approval of the people's representatives.

This is precisely the meaning of the government's latest statements, however they may be explained away. In a practical administrative sense the universal insurance system must disappear when the government announces that it will no longer seriously enforce the payment of insurance premiums.

It is all very well for the government to exhort the people to pay the premiums but does it actually believe they will be paid if the public knows, on the word of the government, that it can refuse to pay and not be prosecuted? Given this assurance of immunity, thousands of people will not pay and immediately the whole actuarial foundation of the scheme is undermined, since the administrators no longer can be sure how much money they will collect.

True, those who do not pay will not be insured and when they go to hospital will be presented with a large daily bill for service. But they will go to hospital nevertheless when they are ill, they must be admitted and treated and if they cannot pay their bills—and many cannot—somebody will have to pay them. Who will pay them? The hospitals cannot absorb this cost. Under these conditions the hospitals will plunge once more into huge deficits and turn to the government for relief. We shall soon be back where we started when insurance rescued the finances of the hospitals.

The whole insurance scheme is based on universality and compulsion and cannot survive without them. It is based on the theory that the ordinary man cannot afford the cost of sudden and expensive illness, that the risk must be spread over the whole community. When a large part of the community is exempted—as it will be exempted if no one is forced to pay his share of the general cost—then the fiscal base of the scheme is destroyed, the hospitals are placed in an impossible position or, alternatively, the taxpayers must rescue them through subsidies from the public treasury. The cost of hospitalization may be disguised and confused in this process. But it cannot be escaped.

The government has a perfect right to say that it intends to abandon universal and compulsory insurance and then to submit that policy to the legislature and stand or fall on it. The government has no right to kill the scheme by a secret stab in the back and certainly no justification in fact to say that the scheme will continue when its underpinning, the assured premium of all insured persons, has been removed. In short, the government appears so far to have no real policy and is in danger of falling between two stools, carrying with it the most hopeful social reform in our British Columbia history.

Smoking Out the Critics

THE COMMUNIST NEWSPAPER Pravda is issuing nationwide invitations to the Russians to send in their criticism of the proposed changes in the Party's constitution and the new five year plan. And the central committee of the Communist Party has "ordered" the paper to print the public's comments. At the same time the word has gone out that the discussions must be "positive and critical," and any official of the party who tries to suppress criticism will be handled in the usual manner.

That sounds like a fine constructive move, on the surface. But men and women who live in a state which "orders" them to send in criticism of the state are not going to be too harsh in their criticism. Particularly will this be the case when that criticism is going to be printed in Pravda for everyone, including the secret police, to see.

Under such conditions criticism tends to be very "constructive" and take the form of "We think everything is just wonderful, thank you."

There is a further stinger in the new regulations. The statutes, says Pravda, "make it not just the right but the obligation of every party member to inform on faults in party work..." In such a sly manner, public criticism becomes secret criticism, whereby one citizen spies on another and reports—because it is his "obligation"—to do so—the backslidings of his neighbor.

That "obligation" should be noted, too, for failure to carry out such a duty could easily put you in the prisoner's dock along with the person you should have criticized and didn't.

The whole system inevitably becomes a mad-house of fear and suspicion and treachery. The democratic right of a person to voice his critical thoughts cannot be superimposed on the subjects of a dictatorial state, for the freedom from fear, freedom from retaliation, freedom from autocratic state action that mark the real democracy are lacking.

Pravda may open its pages as wide as a lion's mouth, to invite criticism of the party, but it is doubtful that Ivan Ivanovitch will stick his head in.

Problems of Replacement and Maintenance Call for Constant Trans-Canada Attention

IN ARTICLES in your issues of August 12 and 13 you said that T.C.A. had invested a considerable amount of money in the Avro jet transport development at Toronto.

The facts are that, while T.C.A. was very much interested in this undertaking, not one cent of company funds was invested therein.

You said that T.C.A. has announced the order of two Lockheed Super Constellations.

The facts are that on September 6, 1951, T.C.A. announced the purchase of five Super Constellations. Decision has now been made to acquire an additional three and announcement of this was made on Tuesday, August 26.

You asked why Lockheed equipment was selected "when all T.C.A.'s previous experience has been with Douglas designs."

LOCKHEED EQUIPMENT

The facts are that T.C.A. has historically had as much, if not more experience with Lockheed equipment than with Douglas, flying aircraft of that manufacture from the airline's inception in 1937 until 1945, when the larger DC-3's were acquired to accommodate growing passenger traffic. With the exception of the standard Constellation T.C.A. will, with the acquisition of the Super Constellation, have flown every type of civil transport produced by the Lockheed Company.

You said that some of T.C.A.'s DC-3's were purchased as long ago as 1936.

The facts are that this company's first DC-3 was acquired in June, 1946.

You ask whether T.C.A. is still bearing down hard on maintenance.

The facts are that over one-third of T.C.A. staff is directly employed in the maintenance and overhaul of our equipment. In 1951 this company spent $6,000,000, exclusive of plant overhead, to keep its fleet at peak efficiency, and the 1952 provision for this purpose amounts to approximately $7,500,000. T.C.A.'s maintenance practices are on a par with any in the air transportation industry.

You ask whether the North Stars are depreciating faster than they should.

NO CHANCE TO AGE

The fact is that T.C.A.'s maintenance procedures call for such constant inspection and replacement of constituent parts that an aircraft never gets a chance to age. Every engine, propeller, instrument and accessory is overhauled at specific intervals, even though it may appear to be in good working order. T.C.A.'s North Stars are as fit today as when they began service. In fact, they are improving mechanically all the time as technical refinements are added.

You ask whether T.C.A. has a replacement program.

T.C.A.'s position is outlined in the company's annual reports for 1950 and 1951, and rather thoroughly reported in the Hansard records of the company's appearance before the Parliamentary committee on Railways and Shipping the last two years (Minutes of Proceedings and Evidence No. 3 Session 1951—pages 224-226, and Minutes of Proceedings and Evidence No. 3 Session 1952—page 191). The T.C.A. policy has also been stated in numerous public addresses.

The Super Constellations now on order will enter service on T.C.A.'s overseas routes in early 1954. They are

BOB RUARK SAYS:

Even Alibis Have a Limit

NEW YORK—I love the alibi as an art form, due to having employed it as a necessity for years, and have bumped into a couple lately that were completely entrancing. See where an actress, name of Gloria Grahame, just got a divorce in Los Angeles on the premise that her late husband, a Mr. Nick Ray, was sullen. This caused Gloria to lose weight, so she shed him. Snap. Like that.

Then I see me a piece in the papers about a Hollywood writer named Bernard Schoenfeld, a Harvard man, who tells the House Un-American Activities Committee that "the shock of President Roosevelt's death drove him into the Communist party." I now believe I have heard everything.

IT WOULD seem that Miss Grahame should be pelting her ex with posies, because all the women I ever meet are dying to lose pounds and trying every whichaway to devise means to cut the heft without giving up the delicious gin and the tantalizing potatoes. Here's a dame got a man who sits in the corner and pouts; third pout and she chops off a pound. This man should be treasured, not divorced.

THIS is one of the few recorded instances in recent years in which a spouse's sullenness made the deponent thin, and they knock him for it. Last time I checked with the distaff, unhappiness made the female fat. The reason is that they submerge the love pangs in food, which is called sublimation.

IT IS A CUTE commentary on the country, at that. All over the nation females in pursuit of svelteness are growing crankier and crankier as they chew the rabbit food and become jaundiced in the presence of black coffee and hard-boiled eggs. They get so irritable that husbands feel like divorcing them. Of a sudden we have a poor guy who has invented the perfect reducing dodge and all he gets for his pains is a divorce and possibly an alimony smack. I'll serve this girl right, now she's happy and unweird, if she gets as fat as a hog.

PROGRESSING to the delicate sensibilities of Mr. Schoenfeld, the screen writer, we might observe that this man never wrote a script before so pregnant with possibility. I offer herewith a short scenario of my own.

The man from the bank calls up and says get it up, Buster, the day is here, and why ain't you paying your lawful bills. Fear not, Scrooge, say I, I am no longer accountable. Why, sezze, are you not liable? Damon Runyon is dead, sezzi. But that was a long time ago, sezze. No matter, sezzi. This is a case of delayed shock. Go whistle for your money, I'm not responsible. Damon died.

COMES the call from the office someday and the man says where's the column at? Can't write, sezzi. State of shock. How come, the man says. We send the money. You send the column. Not me, sezzi, George Washington is dead. Grief-stricken, me.

The day I beat the dogs and squander my substance and set fire to the U.N. Building and hock mama's muskrat, I got only one answer from the D.A. points the finger and mentions rape and murder, too. Why, the D.A. will say. Why? Don't blame me, Junior, is the witness' retort. Haven't you heard? Truman beat Dewey, and I haven't been the same since.

THERE was a time when I fancied myself as a right fair alibi builder, a fine fabricator of excuse, a shifty boy with the plausible explanation for non-performance. But I doff the sombrero, I make the deep bow. Miss Grahame and Mr. Schoenfeld have me backed off. The other night when I was a real bum on one of those TV quiz shows and didn't answer anything right all I said was, I been sick with the Virus Q. I should have told them that mama was mad at me and, anyhow, I just heard tell that Ulysses S. Grant wasn't President any more.

considerably larger than standard Constellations and incorporate advanced features of engine design. In speed, range and passenger comfort they will give Canada a strong competitive position on the North Atlantic for the foreseeable future.

T.C.A. is keenly interested in developments not taking place in the design and manufacture of turbine power plants suitable for airline use. No jet transport currently in production is, however, suitable for T.C.A.'s particular operating requirements. Under the circumstances, we would regard it as most unwise to commit many millions of dollars to the purchase of equipment concerning which so much remains to be proven in terms of hard operational and economic fact.

You ask whether the selection of the Lockheed Constellation as an overseas aircraft constitutes a rejection of the jet concept.

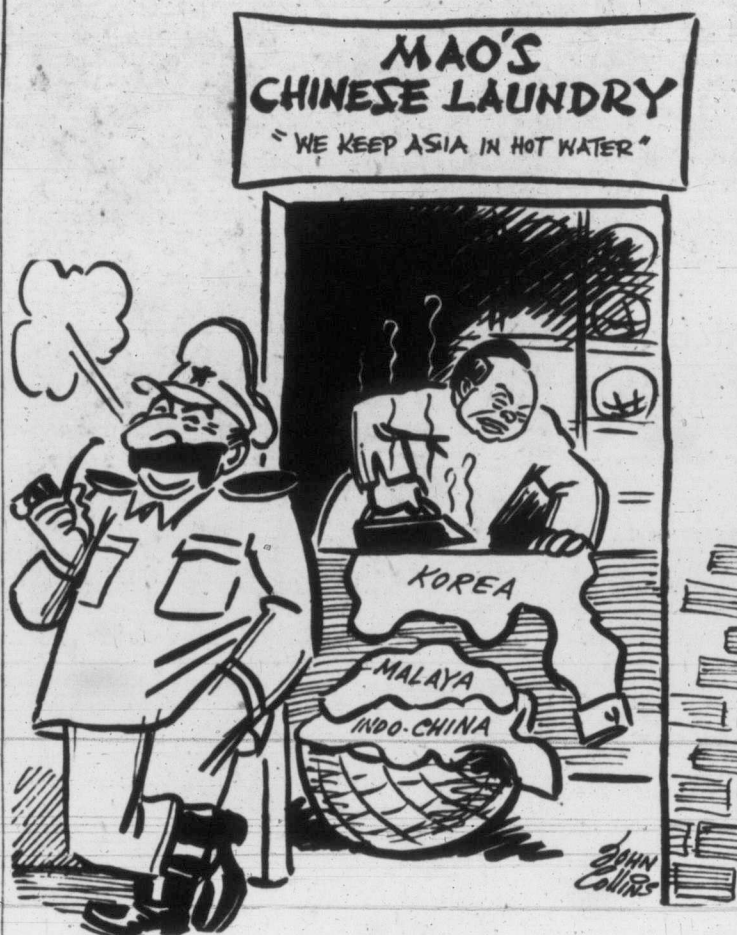

NOT REJECTED. It is in no sense a rejection of the jet aircraft. Thirteen other airlines have a total of 83 Super Constellations on order, and among them are some of the largest and most progressive operators in the air transport world.

They, like ourselves, are very much interested in the development of jet aircraft design, but are taking what we regard as a realistic approach in the light of current technical progress. Among the other airlines who have Super Constellations on order are: Eastern Airlines, Trans World Airlines, KLM, Air France and Air India.

(This is the second of two articles.)

Doing His Dirty Work

As Our Readers See It

PRaise INDEED

Stopped over in Victoria one afternoon and bought the last paper a lad was selling at a street corner. When I got back to the Princess Patricia and read "The Home Paper," I was delighted by its urbanity, wit, balance and refreshing style. Your coverage of foreign news ranging from the Olympics to more weighty matters shows poise and distinction—contrast the muck-raking of most U.S.A. sheets. Since leaving N.Y. and its great Times and Tribune, no west coast paper has filled the void.

Bravo again. I shall spread the news.

ARCHIE H. KAUFMAN,

LIQUOR QUESTION

I find reading your editorials both interesting and profitable, but I beg to take issue with you in your leader of Aug. 13, headed "More Delay in Liquor."

You seem to urge immediate action on the part of the government to give us new legislation regarding the handling of liquor in this province. You say "the legislature already knows all it needs to know about the liquor problem." I challenge that statement. Neither the government, nor any other group of men know enough about that problem to frame satisfactory legislation at the present time, and I hope that no pressure or intimidation will push the government into the passing of immature and hasty enactments which may easily make matters worse than they now are.

What is needed is the appointment of a Royal Commission, composed of competent and trustworthy men charged with the responsibility of investigating the whole liquor business in this province. They should be given power to call any witnesses and secure evidence under oath. We have had many Royal Commissions enquiring into matters of lesser importance. Surely the liquor business is sufficiently large and sufficiently important to warrant a thorough examination! I hope we may have it, and I hope you will not continue to oppose it.

There have been many disturbing rumors in circulation in recent years regarding this matter. They may be true or they may be false. But the government should find out the facts, and the people will be satisfied with nothing less than the facts—they were not permitted to have them before the last silly plebiscite was taken.

You say, and rightly, that governments try to evade the issue because of its political implications. But I take it we have a government of initiative, of conviction and courage, and I hope they will take all the time they feel is necessary, so that they may give us something a great deal better than we have had for a long time. Please do your part to give them a chance.

"HOPEFUL"

REVISITS SCENE

A former Victorian, now resident in the south and temporarily revisiting B.C., I am amazed that the same old political chicanery exists. Dr. Clem Davis, now deceased, of Los Angeles and Victoria, decried what he termed "lousy B.C. politicians." It always seemed to me he was right.

You have a new party in B.C., a clean party and a pleasant change after the patronage drunk era of the twenties and early thirties when I lived here and the presumably patronage excesses which continued until the late government was thrown out.

Surely now we are not going to see the new government being taken over by turncoat politicians from the old political machine. Admittedly the new party in power requires support and they will get it too if they give good government. They will get that support from the body of citizenry who have not been affiliated with former corrupt party machinery.

The new government does not need the aid of discredited Liberal and Conservative wire-pullers and overfed lawyers of these parties who disgracefully desert the scuttled ship on which they have lived for years to get on the new band wagon.

Surely the Skillingses and others who so bitterly worked to frustrate the Socreds have an unmitigated nerve to think the public will go for that sort of a turncoat change. It is a vastly different matter for those people who have not been identified with the party machines and have not accepted patronage to support the Socreds or any party they choose, but this thirteenth-hour conversion of hard-boiled politicians is difficult to swallow.

'The Smiths Are Coming'

Edmonton Journal

ONE of the most disturbing trends in present-day Scotland is the rise of the upstart clan of Smith.

The Smiths have no tartan of their own; nobody has written a ballad about them; and certainly no bagpipe solo is dedicated to their glory. Yet the latest Scottish population figures show that they now outnumber the most famous and historical Scottish names. There are 16 Smiths out of every 1,000 Scotsmen, against only 12 for the MacDonalds, the most numerous of the old clans. This is almost as bad as the situation in benighted England, where 18 out of every 1,000 are Smiths.

It's still too early to judge what effect this process of Smithification will have on Scottish civilization. Nevertheless, to the historic question "Stands Scotland where she did?" the answer must be a regretful "No."

Skeletons In the Closet

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP
From Washington

THE BIGGEST skeletons the next President will find in the White House cupboard can be summarized described in two sentences. The United States and the West are now growing stronger, but the Soviet empire is building up its military power even more rapidly. There is no reason for immediate alarm, but there are grave reasons to be alarmed about the future.

The best reason is the fact that the atomic field is the most significant of change. Soviet output of atomic weapons is massive and increasing. The Soviets are rapidly expanding and improving their means of delivering these weapons to American targets. American air defenses are conspicuously weak. And the Soviet air defense in depth has already, by official admission, rendered the B-36 "obsolete," and is being continuously and vigorously strengthened.

By 1955, in other words, the Soviets may be able to attack the U.S. with crippling effect, while America may be unable to launch an effective counter-attack. This terrible situation need not arise. The technological advances of the last year can prevent it from arising. But what is needed is no mere ounce of prevention. What needs to be done is likely to prove both drastic and unpleasant.

So much has already been suggested in a previous report on the real issues confronting the country, which are not being discussed in the current presidential campaign. But there are other issues not being mentioned, other vast problems which the next President must also solve.

For these problems, the situation of Britain can serve as a convenient symbol. Very few people in the United States seem to have noticed it; but Britain has only narrowly avoided total bankruptcy this summer.

It was a very close shave. A final, disastrous run on sterling was barely averted, with the assistance of heavy infusions of American-aid dollars. And this close shave has already produced certain truly radical results.

On the one hand, the British policy makers and most of their American opposite numbers have just about abandoned hope of getting Britain on an even economic keel on the present basis of affairs. The fever, they say, did not kill the patient this time, but the disease itself has not been cured and cannot be cured without new remedies.

Among the remedies being vaguely and rather nervously discussed are liberalization of American tariff policy to permit Britain to export more to the U.S.; and an Anglo-American stabilization fund to maintain a better dollar-sterling relation. It is hard to imagine two projects more likely to arouse Congress.

Together with many Air Force planners in Washington, the British now believe that the N.A.T.O. program must be revised. They want more emphasis on air power, more emphasis on new weapons, and a reduced call for naval power and ground divisions in the line. Forces so balanced, the British say, will be both better and cheaper.

It is hard to imagine anything more likely to arouse the French, Germans and other continental allies than this "new concept," as Winston Churchill has called it.

Draw from these facts the obvious conclusion. If the next President is willing to tackle the British problem, he will also have to tackle both Congress and the other Atlantic allies, when he has hardly learned his way around the White House.

Ups and Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"IT'S NICE," said the Elevator Man, "to get praised for something good you've done. There's a lot of satisfaction in that. But it's kind of confusing when you're praised for something you haven't done. You respond to the kind words, all right, but your conscience pricks you for enjoying them under false pretences. You can't get over the feeling that you're robbing somebody else of their just reward. Somebody else is being patted on your back, your hand is being raised in somebody else's victory, your mantle holds somebody else's trophy. You're like an alderman who opposed a certain resolution, but then got praised as one of the council that put through such an excellent law. Or a politician who got elected on a platform he didn't believe in. And it's so easy just to keep quiet and look as though you deserve it. Apart from the smirk, self-conscious virtue is the expression most readily assumed by man. Going down!

"There must be," said the Elevator Man, "quite an epidemic of it down in Virginia, where the fire company of one little community has won a prize for the best band. All the volunteer brigades staged a march, and after it was over the Waynesboro band was judged the best. As least that's what the judges announced. Unfortunately, the Waynesboro company has no band. And that makes it a little hard for the residents to feel as proud as they might. But until an official investigation of the judging turns up something definite, they're going to feel as music-conscious as they can. Lower main!

"Everyone," said the Elevator Man, "claims to want what he deserves. But folks aren't always happy when they get it. They may be in the same spot as that college athlete. 'Surely,' the coach protested, 'Jones doesn't deserve a zero in mathematics.' 'I'm sure he doesn't either,' says the professor, 'but that's the lowest mark I can give.'"

Strong Defense Urged by Adlai

Democratic Nominee Raps Communism But Warns Against Over-Zealousness of Attack

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—Governor Adlai Stevenson in effect launched his campaign today with a fighting speech that blasted Communism as "the death of the soul" and called for a strong national defense.

The Democratic presidential nominee's address before the American Legion convention in New York was his first major speech since his nomination, and touched off his initial big drive for votes in the east.

It temporarily took the political spotlight away from Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who spoke before the same convention two days ago and who today announced his first big campaign trip—a visit to 14 cities in 10 states starting Sept. 2.

The major theme of Stevenson's prepared address was patriotism, with a plea for freedom of thought, a warning to veterans not to exert too much pressure on him with "excessive" demands if he is elected, and a surprise, thinly-veiled blast obviously aimed at Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep., Wis.).

These were the highlights:

1. The United States must build up a strong national defense. But its power should be used with restraint to promote freedom, justice and peace in the world.

2. Communism is a threat, but over-zealous patriots are threatening freedom of thought in their efforts to wipe it out. Communist activity can not be stopped by "thought police." Do not, he said, "burn down the barn to kill the rats."

3. "We are rapidly becoming a nation of veterans," and "if we were all to claim a special reward... who would be left to pay?" He said he would resist pressures from veterans or any other organization if he felt they were excessive.

4. The attackers of Gen. George C. Marshall are hiding under a cloak of patriotism—"the last refuge of scoundrels." Although he did not mention McCarthy by name, he left no doubt that the Wisconsin senator was one of his main targets.

Marshall Accused of Plotting

McCarthy has accused Marshall, former secretary of state and former secretary of defense, of being party to a plot against the security of his own country. Stevenson said with an attack on Marshall was a "shocking example" of the type of "patriotism" he warned against.

Other developments:

Representative John Rankin, 70, a veteran of 32 years in Congress and a bitter foe of President Truman's civil-rights program, was defeated in Tuesday's Mississippi primary by Representative Thomas Abernethy, 49. Abernethy said they were close friends, but had been forced into a contest because their districts had been merged this year.

MAYOR TO JUDGE AS NEIGHBORS STAGE PARADE

Mayor Claude Harrison intends to make his good-neighbor policy felt on the other side of the international boundary line.

The mayor has accepted an invitation to go to Port Angeles Saturday to be a judge in that city's big Derby Week parade. While across the Strait of Juan de Fuca, the mayor intends to meet Port Angeles civic officials in an exchange of goodwill.

Recently Mayor Harrison completed an up-island tour, making friends for Victoria among close northern neighbors.

Revision of City Heating Laws Advocated

A new move to have the city revise the heating section of its building code has been initiated. Representatives of a special committee comprising sheet metal workers and heating contractors appeared Tuesday before City Council's public works committee to submit their suggestions for amending the present by-law.

Arguments were presented by Mark Scott of the Sheet Metal Workers' Union, and Arthur Lionel, consulting engineer.

Mr. Lionel said the suggested amendments put before the council committee represented three years' work by sheet metal workers, heating contractors, Greater Victoria building inspectors and fire chiefs.

A year ago the same groups submitted an entirely new heating code for council consideration but were informed city by-laws could not be changed that easily. This time, the groups have incorporated all their ideas in the form of amendments to the existing by-law.

Ald. Percy Scourrah and Ald. James Neely said they did not see why there should be any limitation governing who installed heating equipment so long as the work was done properly and satisfied building inspectors.

Mr. Scott argued: "You can't have every Tom, Dick and Harry throwing in furnaces." The council committee agreed to study the drafted amendments and decided to seek advice from city building inspector J. W. Oosterink and city solicitor Arthur Patton.

It Wasn't Glenn Miller, But Dance-Happy Fans Weren't in the Mood to Be Critical

BY RON BAIRD

It didn't sound much like Miller, but the band that big, friendly Tex Beneke brought into town Tuesday night played some very pleasant music all the same.

If you went there hoping for a carbon copy of the late great Glenn Miller orchestra of the early 40's, it was a pretty pallid substitute. But 1,400 local dance and listen fans who paid to see the ex-Miller vocal star in action seemed happy with the results.

The Beneke book is full of lots of old standards and pops that brought back memories to many of the dancers, and there were newer pieces arranged for the people who buy Tex's records by the bushel-basket.

A young band in respect to the ages of the musicians, it had a good, clean approach to the arrangements and what was lacking in the way of sensational stuff was made up for in precision. And they even added the old Glenn Miller trick of having the different sections wave their horns in unison.

Beneke's pleasant, singular style of putting a song across (Kalamazoo) was abetted by his two singers, Bill Raymond and Joan Kavanaugh.

TORONTO REPRESENTED

There was a Canadian up there in the stands, too.

Moe Kauffman of Toronto held down the important lead alto chair and he sounded as though he knew what the musical score was all about.

The Beneke orchestra certainly isn't one of the greatest in the business.

But you would go a long way before you found one that was much nicer to dance to . . . and, after all, it is a dance band. It drew a bigger crowd than Harry James' power-house crew which came in here a couple of months ago.

Filling in the intermission local band. It sounded pretty competition from the United States.

'LOOK MA, I'M DANCIN''

Times Movie Man Gets Hep To Tex Beneke's Style

By PHIL LEE

In years long gone by I used to enjoy dancing to the great Glenn Miller band in sundry places. And last night I was at Memorial Arena to his successor, Tex Beneke, when my wife hissed at me through something low and swampy. "If we're going to look like the others we've got to get more groovey."

I looked around and sure enough we were only one of a few couples dancing at all. Most of the others were small boys in their father's suits. This made it easy to see. All the boys had to do was stand still and their suits kept right on dancing for them. This obviously made their girls mad. Because they kept prancing away every time the boys came dancing up to them. Then they would both chew gum hard at one another without even looking at each other. After that they would turn back-to-back and go wandering away again. They looked most unhappy.

I started to manoeuvre Peggy up to the bandstand so I could hear Beneke's gal singer, dark-haired Joan Kavanaugh, do some warbling when she hissed. "Get hep." Then she became indignant when I asked who "Hep" was. "Your dancing's in the dark ages," she muttered. "do you want your daughter to grow up thinking you're a square?" "I'll tell her once I was a round," I muttered back. "Yuk, yuk," my gal retorted just a bit bitterly.

So we tried. But something went wrong. Maybe my suit was too small. Or maybe I got too glassy-eyed. But the first time I left her like the other boys left their girls I got lost. I danced with one little girl in a pink blouse and a tight skirt who after a few short passes told me I was "ickey," which didn't sound like something to brag about. The next one yelled, "Dig me." But when I dug an elbow into her ribs her escort promptly invited me outside, and I took it that he didn't want to dance with me either.

Peggy rescued me after I had had two dances with the door-man. "We're going home," she observed tartly. "Here are your crutches."

"Just a minute," I replied. "I want to watch that group over there. It should be fun . . . if they find it."

"Find what?"

"The rug I heard them say they're going to cut."

"That does it," she roared. It did.

TYEES TRADE BASE HITS FOR PICKLED PICNIC HAM

It will be pickled eggs and potato salad for the Victoria Tyees Sunday.

The Baseball Booster Club has arranged a picnic at Sooke Flats for the Tyees, their wives, the Salem Senators and any baseball fans who wish to attend.

Transportation for the players and wives will be provided by the Boosters.

Fans who wish to attend may purchase tickets, not later than Thursday night, at the ball park or radio station CKDA. A car parade leaves the ball park at 11.30 Sunday.

For those without transportation, reduced fares are offered on chartered buses to and from the picnic.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

Lu Branham, the scholarly second baseman of the Victoria Tyees, dangled his legs from the dugout bench as members of the Vancouver Capilanos were taking their turns at the plate in pre-game drill.

"What's the matter with Jesse Williams; why isn't he playing?" someone remarked.

"He's got a bum leg," another answered, which caused Branham to interject:

"There's a guy that Jackie Robinson used to take a back seat to. I remember reading about Williams when I was this high."

Lu emulating a schoolboy-sized figure that would seem to make Williams a legendary character nearing his 40th birthday.

"Yeah, he was one of the best," Lu continued in his characteristic tone. "There wasn't a better glove man in the Negro League when Williams was at his peak."

"How old is he," someone asked.

"Must be about 38, Lu answered, as he counted back the years. "Yeah, 38 or maybe 39, his owlish eyes blinking back into history."

"But age doesn't mean everything to a ballplayer," he theorized. "You're only as old as you feel. Me! I don't feel any older now than I did when I was a teen-ager kid."

"It all depends on yourself," he continued. "Take care of yourself when you're young and age won't bother you."

"What's the secret," an inquirer remarked as Lu slipped off the bench and headed for the dugout exit.

"Moderation... moderation in everything," Lu intoned, smiling as he did so, and the most under-rated infielder of the Tyees had left his listeners with a thought for the future.

A Chance Word... a Changed Mind

Lu has "been around" as the saying goes, seeing time with Birmingham and Chicago in the Negro American League, spending one year with Caracas in the Venezuelan Winter League and also part of last year with Drummondville in the Provincial League.

He was one of several players picked up by Garriotti this spring as the Tyees were being moulded into the championship-elect team they are today.

And if it hadn't been for another Negro, Napoleon Gully, a teammate of Garriotti's at Visalia last year, who recommended him, Lu probably would have been out of baseball this year.

"I was ready to call it quits," he said once, "but now I'm glad I came to Victoria."

And so Victoria baseball fans when they see the quiet, efficient and businesslike manner in which Lu handles himself around second base.

If moderation is the secret, then the 27-year-old Branham is a good example of his own teachings.

Marg Todd Advances in U.S. Amateur Tee Meet

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 27 (UP)—A pair of veterans of tournament play and a handful of teenagers getting their first big-time experience were the centre of attraction today in the second and third rounds of the U.S. women's national amateur golf competition.

Successfully past the first round of match play were defending champion Dot Kirby, former champion Grace Lenczyk and such young folks as 14-year-old Anne Quast of Everett, Wash., Pat Lesser, Seattle, 19, Barbara Romack, Sacramento, Calif., 19, Katherine McKinnon, Lake Worth, Fla., and Connie Oldershaw, Spokane, 18, all of whom look like potential champions.

Mrs. J. H. Todd of Victoria, won her match Tuesday, but another Canadian went to the sidelines. Mrs. Todd downed Betty Rowland of Lexington, Ky., 1-up, while Babs Davies, of Vancouver, dropped a 1-up decision to Shirley McFetters of Long Beach, Calif., on the 19th hole.

Third round matches will be played in the afternoon and on nightfall only eight of the original field of 147 still will be in contention for the crown.

SUSPENSION REMINDS HIM OF TIME HE MET DEMPSEY

Trouble Nothing New to Kearns

By JACK CUDDY
NEW YORK, Aug. 27 (UP).—How did Kearns meet Dempsey?

Jack (Doc) Kearns, unquestionably the most successful fight manager in ring history, shrugged off Tuesday's indefinite New York suspension of himself and lightweight champion Joe Maxim and said:

"Seems like I've always been in trouble, but this time I'm completely in the right. The New York Boxing Commission gave me and Maxim a kangaroo court instead of sending the case into the civil courts because we refused to defend next month against Randy Turpin in London at the seamy purse promoter Jack Solomons offered."

"But even New York politicians can make mistakes when they go clear out of their way to rule against Americans in favor of Britishers, as we shall soon prove. Anyway, I feel a lot more sorry for chairman Bob Christenberry of the New York commission than for Maxim and myself. Christenberry is bound to lose face. Personally, I can't lose face. I've been in trouble ever since I was a kid. And I was in serious trouble, for example, the night I first met Dempsey."

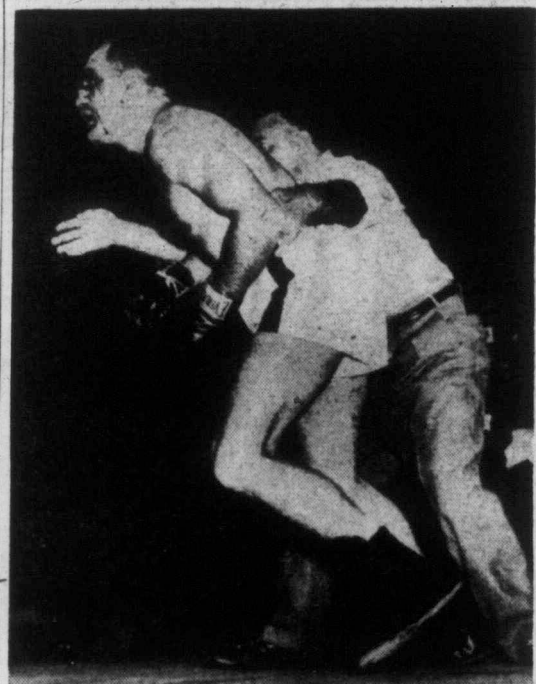

Slender, dapper Kearns—now 65—guided Dempsey to the world heavyweight championship and to "at least $15,000,000 for us both before we broke off."

"Yes, I was in trouble the night I met Dempsey," the famous pilot continued. "It was in May, 1917, and I had just come back from a tour of Australia with several fighters I managed. I was in my home town of Oakland, Cal., and I dropped into a bar run by Al White. I hadn't finished one beer when I noticed a middleweight named Vic Hansen, whom I had managed before I went to Australia."

Kearns explained that Hansen was drinking enthusiastically. Riding his enthusiasm, Hansen came over to Kearns at the bar, and demanded, "why didn't you take me to Australia with you. I could have licked anybody in the party." Hansen had another shot of whisky. Then he declared, "and I could have licked the manager—you dirty so-and-so."

Kearns said he didn't wait until Hansen was finished with his oration. "I hit him right

INDIANS HOUND YANKS

Bob Still One Tough Feller

"Expendable" Bob Feller may have lost some of his mound magic but he is not ready to act as sacrificial lamb for anyone.

The former strikeout king was enjoying the last laugh today following one of his better performances of the year in which he teamed up with three other "expendable" teammates to bring an important victory to Cleveland Indians.

Feller came within two outs of winning a hurling duel from the fabulous Bobby Shantz Tuesday before leaving the mound in the ninth inning with the Indians and Athletics deadlocked at 3-3.

YANKS WIN
The Indians went on to capture a thrill-packed 6-3 decision in 11 innings to remain within one game of the American League-leading Yankees, who whipped St. Louis Browns, 6-3, in New York.

Lu was a softball player before he played baseball, he disclosed earlier this season. His first diamond activity came with his draft call to the U.S. army in 1944.

Following his discharge from the army, he hooked on with Satchel Page's All-Stars, barnstorming against major league clubs for two seasons.

Students Falter in Ninth; Trail Plays Here Tonight

Forest Products 5, Chinese Students 3

By BILL WALKER

Fate wrote a cruel ending to the Stan Tenning story Tuesday night.

B.C. Forest Products not only qualified to meet Trail in the B.C. championship semi-final opening tonight at Central Park, but they cracked a gutty heart in two with their title-winning 5-3 victory over Chinese Students.

The scene was the sixth and deciding game of the best-of-five city final playdowns (one game having ended in a tie).

Chinese Students were leading 3-1 in the top of the ninth inning. Tenning, the brilliant veteran with his broken index finger on his pitching hand ended in a cast, was on the hill.

He had previously received credit for the Students' three comeback victories over Butlers Aces in the semifinal series and had won two games against the millmen, the second after suffering his injury.

He had replaced Charlie McKay in the first inning of this one, the payoff game, and wiggled out of the two-on-base jam McKay got himself into.

EARLY LEAD
As the innings rolled on, Students grabbed a one-run lead in the first. Tom Derr scoring Don Robinson, who had doubled, on an infield out.

They added another tally in the fourth with Bung Derr's outfield fly scoring brother Tom who had tripped.

A single by Tony Bishop, Jeff Worrall's force out and successive singles by Bob Emberton and Don Hendry gave millmen a run in the fifth and it was a tight 2-1 duel between Tenning and Ross.

Students replied in the eighth with Tenning getting a life on Charlie Sansbury's error, the first of the game, Robinson sacrificing pinch-runner Gordie Chow to second and Taylor bouncing a double between Sansbury's legs scoring Chow to give Students their 3-1 edge entering the ninth.

DESTINY INTERVENES
That's when destiny played its trump.

Mickey Smith rifled an inside pitch down the left field line for a double. Sansbury singled in field. Joe Travis, batting for Bates, forced Smith.

Shortstop Don Robinson threw wildly to first on Tony Bishop's ground ball, Sansbury scoring to cut the margin to 3-2.

Jeff Worrall squeezed home Travis as Tenning slipped while fielding the ball and, in a desperation move, heaved the ball to first base.

NOBODY THERE
But first base was unprotected and Bishop scampered home all the way from first with the winning run. Emberton grounded out, scoring Worrall with the clincher.

Tenning's shoulders sagged visibly with the weight of the four-run outburst and he left the scene before his mates went down in order in the bottom of the ninth, thanks partly to Emberton's circus catch, one of three he made during the game.

But in fairness, victory was equally as deserving for Forest Products.

DESERVING WINNERS
They, too, had come from behind a two-game deficit in their semifinal series with Pitzer and Nex to gain the final, and had won the championship series in their last chance—the ninth inning.

Tonight they take on a new foe—Trail, champions of the inferior in the first game of a semifinal series for the B.C. title.

Second game will be played Thursday and the third Friday. Winner travels to Vancouver, Saturday, for the provincial final.

Norm Haskell will likely get the mound call for the millers as Ross pitched again Tuesday.

Like Tenning, Ross was a standout in the millmen's drive to the title, winning all three semifinal games of the five he worked, and also gaining credit for the three victories in the final.

Game time is 6.15.

Hutchinson, Acres Matched

Bill McColl, defending champion of the Colwood Golf Club handicap championship, ran into a bushel of trouble in the person of Bert Acres over the weekend and was ousted from the second round of the handicap tournament when Acres scored a 1-up victory.

Acres will meet Fred Hutchinson, who downed E. Brooks 5 and 3, in Sunday's semi-final round.

MOVE CLOSER TO TITLE

Tyees Walk Over Braves

Victoria 9, Tri-City 8

It took almost three hours, seven pitchers, 24 bases on balls, two wild pitches, a hit batter, a passed ball, and a small rhubarb, but Victoria Tyees finally chopped down Tri-City Braves 9-8 Tuesday night.

The victory moved Garriotti's gunners ever closer to the W.I.L. pennant as Spokane lost to Wenatchee 7-6, although the dragged-out affair was hard on the but-tocks.

Dave Brittain, a reasonably wild right-hander, started for the Braves. He stuck it out for almost two innings during which time he gave up six hits and three walks while the Tyees amassed a 6-1 lead.

Bill Kostenbader was wilder (he walked nine men) but more effective in the first relief stint and blanked the Tyees until the eighth when he loaded the bases with nobody out.

That called for George New, a left-hander who leads the league in strikeouts and, it is believed, in walks.

New lived up to both qualifications, striking out two Tyees but walking three to force in three runs before Adolph Satalich found the plate and stopped such nonsense.

And the Tyees needed those three runs to nip the Braves, their own mound corps having had radar problems as well in blowing the 6-1 lead into an 8-6 deficit.

Bill Bottler was the Tyees starter. And he, too, was in a lull mood.

A first-inning walk to lead-off batter Don Lopes led to the Braves' first run.

Three bases on balls and a single by Tom Marrier gave the visitors a brace of tallies in the third. A walk to John Kovenz followed by Des Charouhas' double in the fifth cut the once handsome Tyees lead to 6-4.

PRIOR TO RESCUE
Bottler then fell victim to Kostenbader's double, a walk to Lopes, a fielder's choice in which no one was retired, an out-field run-producing fly by John Kovenz and a two-run single by Charouhas before he bowed out in favor of Bill Prior in the sixth.

Prior was quickly nicked for two singles, the Braves producing a fourth run and taking their 8-6 lead, which way it remained until the walkathon in the eighth, the Tyees pulling it out.

Prior wasn't around to protect his victory in the ninth, having been pulled for pinch-hitter Dwane Helbig. However, Carl Gunnarson did the good deed. It was Prior's sixth win.

The rhubarb, which didn't have a patch on Saturday's affair, occurred when play umpire Russ Kimple called Don Pries out at home plate in the sixth but, in conclusion of the regular season, as there are only five teams in the local league this year instead of six, as was the case last year, only two games a night will be played. The inter-city games would be played as part of the regular league schedule.

It is also hoped to interest Nanaimo and Duncan in this scheme.

Anyone interested in playing Senior A basketball this year is asked to attend a meeting Thursday night at 8 at Pat Morgan's home, 1552 Morley Street. A team will be formed and it is hoped that intercity games will be played.

Painter Still Alive

VANCOUVER, Aug. 27 (CP)—The favorites were beginning to find their way to the sidelines today as play continued in the Canadian Amateur golf tournament.

The field of 64 was to be pruned to 16 in the third and fourth rounds of the week-long club social over the mountain-side Capilano course in West Vancouver.

Walt McElroy of Vancouver, the defending champion, joined a small, select group of amateurs after Tuesday's second 18-hole match play round.

Previously sidetracked were Joe Gagliardi of Mamaroneck, N.Y., runner-up in the U.S. Amateur last year; Peter Bogan, U.S. Links champion, and Dick Yost, high-rated U.S. amateur.

TOURNEY HOT SHOTS

A fairly large group gave signs they are able and willing to step into McElroy's shoes, among them Canadians Nick Weslock of Windsor, Ont.; Jerry Kesselring of Kitchener, Ont.; Doug Silverberg of Red Deer, Alta., and Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver, and Americans Sam Uzzetta, 1950 U.S. champion of Rochester, N.Y.; Ed Johnston of Towson, Md.; Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va.;

Frank Hardison of Glendale, Calif., and Bob Roos of San Francisco, who eliminated McElroy 3 and 2.

NEAR COURSE MARK

Weslock swarmed all over Mike Banks of Seattle, 9 and 8, and went on to fire an eight-under-par 64, two off the course record of 62 set by Al Mergert of Spokane, Wash., two years ago.

Johnston crushed R. W. Porter of Vancouver, 10 and 8, in the most one-sided match so far. Both he and Weslock had eagles. Weslock on the par-five first and Johnston on the par-five fifth.

Some of the most interesting matches scheduled for today included those between Bill Shields, New York State champion, and Phil Farley of Toronto; Uzzetta and highly-regarded Jack Ellis of Vancouver; Eddie Draper, Washington State champion, and Jim Harper of Edmonton, and Dave Edgell of Vancouver and Silverberg.

The fifth and sixth rounds will be run off Thursday, leading to the 36-hole semi-finals Friday and the 36-hole final Saturday.

Vic Painter, who performed the giant-killing chore against Stan Leonard, of Vancouver, and Pat Fletcher, of Saskatchewan, and added two more in the afternoon to trounce the Canadian pair seven up.

Pat Fletcher, who won the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association title last month, was back in the singles competition today.

In the original draw announced Monday he was left off the singles line-up, his place taken by Bill Kerr.

The same point system for scoring in the match play competition holds in the singles today—one point for each 18 holes and one for 36 holes.

Tennis Draw

Draw for matches in the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club handicap championships tonight follows:

2:30 p.m.—Mrs. G. Dawson vs. Miss A. Pollard.
4:30 p.m.—K. Taylor vs. W. Cameron.
5:30 p.m.—A. C. Brand vs. P. D. Pascoe.

Greco Regains Canadian Welter Title

MONTREAL, Aug. 27 (CP)—The Canadian welterweight title and veteran Johnny Greco of Montreal are back together again today.

This came about Tuesday night when the 29-year-old Greco defeated fellow-Montrealer Armand Savoie, getting a unanimous decision in the 12-round title bout at the Forum here.

Greco, champion since 1914, lost the title to Savoie in a close decision here some seven weeks ago. Greco weighed 147, Savoie 139.

More than 8,000 fans contributed to a gross gate of $23,000 to see Greco force the fight all the way to win by a wide margin. The veteran was on the offensive continually, landing repeatedly to pile up the points while the 23-year-old Savoie was never able to get going.

Mrs. Dowell Tops Monthly Medal Round

Mrs. A. Dowell scored a double victory Monday in the monthly medal round for golfers with handicaps of 15 and under at Victoria Golf Club.

Her 80 won low net honors and she had a 92 to take the low gross championship.

Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Godfrey tied for second low net with 82's.

Players moving from Toronto to the Q.S.H.L. do not need re-instatement as amateurs. The Smythe-Gorman deal was seen here as an opening shot for similar moves by other N.H.L. clubs affected by the A.H.L. ruling.

TIME OUT! By Jeff Keate

Rep Cricket Team To Play Test Match

The Victoria and District Cricket Association rep team, which travels to Vancouver, Monday for the annual Labor Day game at Brockton Oval, gets its baptism Sunday.

The reps will meet a strong side, representing the best of the league not chosen for the all-star squad. The game, at Beacon Hill oval, starts at 2:30.

The strong testing side consists of R. Moffat, J. Frederick, Geoff Dyson and Lou Heppental, Cowichan; Eric Glendon and Ted Oakman, Albion; Glen Odgers, Oak Bay; John Moss, Al-Jagger, Alcos; Tom McKee, Five C's, and Ray Calton, Inco's.

Reserves will be R. Walton, Cowichan; Bob Sherratt, Jim Oakman and Goddard, Albion; Alan Wright, Oak Bay; Godfrey Wenman, Inco's; Allan Griffin, Five C's, and W. Roberts.

Jean Bardsley Takes Island Tennis Titles

Comely Jean Bardsley, Vancouver's beauty queen of the tennis courts, has added the Vancouver Island women's singles and doubles championships to her list of net achievements.

Mrs. Bardsley defeated Lois Reid of Vancouver in straight 6-4 sets at South Cowichan Tennis Club courts Sunday to win the singles title and then teamed with June Lee of Portland to down Mrs. Reid and Maureen Bray of Vancouver in the doubles final.

Mrs. Reid teamed with Vancouver's classy Daryl Thompson but lost out in the finals of the mixed doubles event when they bowed 6-3, 6-0 to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lee of Portland.

Paul Willey of Vancouver topped the men's singles title by downing Richland's Gene Russell 6-3, 6-3.

Two titles were defaulted, Jack Lowe and Fred Fisher taking the Pacific Northwest men's doubles and B. Page and Ken Clegg winning the Vancouver Island men's doubles.

ROCKS DOWN VANCOUVER

Arch, Whitey Share Crown

VANCOUVER—They'll have to stretch the Intercity Lacrosse League scoring crown big enough to fit two heads this year.

Whitey Severson exploded for seven points here Tuesday night as Victoria Shamrocks put the nails in another league schedule by whipping Vancouver 18-13 at Kerrisdale Arena.

Severson's outburst put him in a first-place tie with line-mate Archie Browning in the final point standings and prevented Browning from taking his second straight championship.

He picked up four goals last night. Both players finished the schedule with 107 points. Browning has 83 goals and 24 assists while Severson, who was three points down to Browning going into the game, has 36 goals and 71 assists.

PLAYOFFS THURSDAY

The scoring joust was the highlight of a game that had no bearing on the final standings. Vancouver finished in third place and will meet New Westminster Salmonakas in one semi-final bracket starting Thursday night while Shamrocks meet P.N.E. Indians on the other series starting in Victoria Friday night.

Vancouver made a game of it in the first half splitting four goals with the Rocks in the opening period but picking up a 6-3 lead at the end of the half. The Rocks broke out in an awesome display of concentrated power in the second half to push 15 goals past Jack Green and Laurie Woods, who replaced him in the third period.

Referees Bill Dickinson and Bill Wilkes had a quiet night, being called on to whistle only six minutes in penalties.

Browning and Severson both scored in the first quarter, but Browning picked up a goal in the second quarter to go four points up on Severson.

Severson ignited in the third quarter to ram in three goals and cut his deficit one point and then added an assist to square the race.

Severson set up Browning for a goal with seven seconds left in the period and both players had 106 points.

Severson's final point was an assist on Larry Booth's goal early in the frame, but Browning scored at 12:12 to force the final tie.

Neither player was able to break the point deadlock in the final minutes of the game.

Vancouver sustained two injuries in the game, injuries that may hit them hard in the playoffs. Big Alex McKay re-injured his knee while Woods was hit in the face with a blazing shot from Jackie Northup's stick and Green came back into the game.

Ticket sale for Friday's game starts Thursday morning at Memorial Arena starting at 10 for season's ticket holders. General admissions go on sale Friday at 10.

STELCOS TAKE LEAD IN DOMINION SOCCER SEMIS

WINNIPEG, Aug. 27 (CP)—Montreal Stelcos Tuesday defeated Winnipeg United Weston 1-0 in the first game of the best-of-seven Dominion soccer semi-final.

Stelcos scored in the first five minutes of the game on a penalty kick. Weston centre-half Harold Kahn handled the ball in the penalty area and Montreal half-back Johnny Serrati punched home the free kick.

The winner of the Quebec-Manitoba match meets either Edmonton Legion or New Westminster in the Dominion final, to be played here.

Als, Roughriders Open Big Four Season Today

MONTREAL, Aug. 27 (BUP)—The Dominion champion Ottawa Rough Riders and the rebuilt Montreal Alouettes introduce Canadian football to television today and simultaneously launch the 1952 Big Four season.

Under the watchful eyes of an expected 20,000 persons, and C.B.C. television cameras, carrying the game to Montreal district sets for the first time, two worried coaches will trot out squads that still haven't "jelled."

Coach Douglas (Peahead) Walker of Montreal named Sam (The Rifle) Etcheverry, a passing and kicking nifty from Denver University, as his starting quarterback, leaving Frank Nagle, a Nebraska on the sidelines, and others interested are asked to Either Etcheverry or Nagle, he attend and bring running shoes.

SOCCER PRACTICE

Esquimaux of the Victoria and District Football Association will hold a combined meeting and workout at Fraser Street Hall tonight at 7. Last year's players and others interested are asked to attend and bring running shoes.

Leafs to Use Ottawa As No. 1 Farm Team

TORONTO, Aug. 27 (BUP)—Angered at the American Hockey League's "declaration of independence," Conn Smythe, major domo of the Toronto Maple Leafs, swung into action today with his own independence program.

First step in the plan was a tie-up with the Ottawa Senators that would make the Quebec Senior League club No. 1 in the farm chain of the Leafs this winter.

Next was a meeting in Chicago.

Arena Extras Explained to Curious Mayor

Contractor Writes Full Explanation

Mayor Claude Harrison received an answer Tuesday to questions as to what "extras" were being charged the city on an arena contract.

Last week, the mayor was asked to sign a bill from Parfitt Construction Company for $11,388. He refused on grounds that there was one item labelled "extras" which were not explained.

Tuesday, Harold Parfitt wrote the mayor informing him the extras covered beveling of seats, edge grain stepping and reinforcing of plywood ends with capin. The charge for this work was $97.

In addition, Mr. Parfitt said there will be another additional charge of $39 for performance bond.

Mayor Harrison appeared satisfied with the accounting by the contractor, but reiterated his early statement: "I will not approve of any expenditure unless I understand what it is all about."

R.C.M.P. Harvesting Crop of Speedsters

R.C.M.P. Highway Patrol is hitting at speeders on the Island Highway.

Seven drivers paid $10 fines and costs when they appeared before Magistrate A. I. Thomas in provincial court at the new R.C.M.P. detachment at Colwood Corners.

Speeders "ticked" were Walter I. Hamilton, 2693 Prior; Royston G. Pearce, 629 Yates; Edward J. Bowcott, 777 St. Patrick; Richard H. Sanders, Leigh Road, Langford; John D. Hazlette, Duncan; Harry J. Cool, 1017 Balmoral and Lloyd D. Pearce, Belmont Park naval housing project.

A fine of $25 and $3 costs was imposed against Royal A. McClelland, H.M.C.S. Naden, for operating a car without a valid driver's license.

WAR CANOES GROOMING

Brentwood Paddles Flash As Tribe Races Steamer

The Mill Bay ferry is getting a run for its money these nights.

Limbering up for the colorful all-Indian regatta to be staged at Deep Cove Saturday afternoon, 11 members of the Brentwood tribe go out nightly in a 50-foot war canoe and race the ferry into Brentwood from an island outside the harbor.

The Brentwood group holds the war canoe speed record among coast tribes. It was set in 1930 when a dugout skimmed over a three-mile course in 12 minutes 50 seconds during races in Washington State.

Eight canoes will compete here Saturday with a possible four more, as yet unconfirmed. Two will come from Lummi Island, two from the Upper Skagit tribe, and one each from Brentwood, Songhees, Duncan and Kuper Island groups.

Possible entries are from Nanaimo, Cole Bay, Chemainus and Cowichan Bay.

Each canoe will carry 11 men, paddling from a sitting position to give the craft greater stability.

On Saturday, a parade of canoes, carrying the elected queen and her princesses, will open the regatta at 1.30. Races will be held on a triangular course in the cove.

Spittal Ace at All Distances But Only Close to Major Prize

By ROY THORSEN

A top-flight Victoria marksman has won the distinction of being picked for the Canadian team in world-famous Bisley shoot for the fourth time in his shooting career.

He is Major A. M. Taylor Spittal (his first names are Andrew Morrison), an insurance broker. Maj. Spittal last year joined the 75th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment, R.C.A. (Reserve), being attached from the Supplementary Reserve, to command an arms training of the unit.

The grey-haired, pleasant, rifle marksman said he was chosen to go with the team to Bisley (near famed Aldershot) the first time in 1931. He went again in 1936. "I got the nod again in 1936, but I had to turn it down that time owing to pressure of personal business," he said.

It was recently announced he had been named on Canada's 1953 Bisley team. He will go this time. It will be held from July 6 to 18 next year.

MONTREAL RIVOUCAC

Maj. Spittal started to shoot in 1918 when with the National Defense headquarters at Ottawa, moving to Winnipeg in 1920 and took part in competition there until 1923. He went to Montreal and stayed there until war broke out, in the meantime getting three calls to Bisley.

The 52-year-old marksman was too young for service in First World War. He was too old for an active role in the front line in the 1939-45 war, but he enlisted for overseas and went over with the No. 2 Canadian Forestry Corps.

He was ordered back to Canada in 1942 and went to the 6th Canadian Infantry Division, charged with the defense of Vancouver Island. After the war, he decided Victoria was a nice place and settled here. His wife is Margaret. They live at 1215 Old Esquimalt Road. There are no children.

Asked about his shooting record, Maj. Spittal said he's scored possibilities on 200, 300, 500, 600, 900 and 1,000-yard ranges, but he admitted "not consecutively."

He also admitted the closest he ever came at Bisley to winning major honors was placing second in the featured Duke of Gloucester Trophy in 1936.

"It's a tough league to beat. You're facing the finest marksmen in the Commonwealth," he said, and noted that climatic conditions were good, food excellent. Everything was done to provide conditions as much like home as possible.

"No, I've never had the hunting bug. I'm strictly a range-target shooter. They just don't mix," he said. He was among the 18 men newly chosen from Canada in a field of about 650 marksmen for the Bisley assignment. Only other B.C. man on the team is Sgt. E. R. Jamieson, Vancouver.

R.C.N. Information here tells me that Petty Officer Clifford Stephenson in last Sunday's final fish-off of the Ladder Derby, in Saanich Inlet, got into a "scaly" pickle. There was no bait can available so the herring were stuffed into a pop bottle.

P.O. Stephenson, drinking a bottle of coke, placed his bottle near the one containing herring. In the throes of reeling in the line (he thought it was a catch), the petty officer reached over for his coke and took a long drink. During the rest of the day he was periodically spitting up herring and fish scales. By the way, there was no fish on his lure. He'd hooked bottom.

Naval Information reports that P.O. Douglas Johnson is now back on local soil after serving with H.M.C.S. Crusader. P.O. Albert Simons has transferred from H.M.C.S. Naden to H.M.C.S. Quebec.

P.O. Edwin Hiebert is now serv-

RECOGNITION OF RED CHINA ASKED BY CHURCH COMMITTEE

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 27 (BUP)—Delegates to the United Church of Canada's general council here next month will be asked to support Canadian recognition of Communist China. The commission on church and international affairs has recommended in its brief to the council that the church recommend Canadian diplomatic relations with the Peiping regime. The suggestion came under a general heading of "peace-making."

Other recommendations made by the commission include: Sustained support of the United Nations; wider support and understanding of the Colombo Plan; greater concern for refugees, and better relations with the Greek Orthodox Church. The commission is headed by a Toronto layman, Henry E. Langford.

The report suggest that, "now is the time for a larger program of peace-building by the churches—Christian bodies should take the initiative."

"This area of work has been left too exclusively to the Canadian Peace Congress and related groups," the commission noted, adding that it would find support among large groups of United Churchmen.

The Peace Congress referred to is a Communist front organization headed by Dr. James G. Endicott, a former United Church missionary to China.

Five Newfoundland Fishermen Safe After Ship Burns, 18-Hour Row

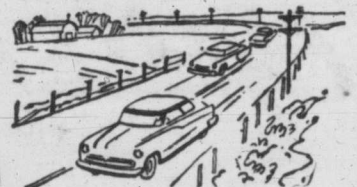

WESLEYVILLE, Nfld., Aug. 27 (BUP)—Undaunted by an 18-hour row through the pitching Atlantic in an open dory, five Newfoundland fishermen vowed today they would return to the sea just as soon as a new ship was put under them. Capt. Frank Collins of the ill-fated schooner James Jones, and his four-man crew, were drenched from spray and sore from 50 miles of oar-pulling when they reached this isolated coastal village on the north shore of Bonaville Bay Tuesday night. But Collins, who had experienced the fourth loss of a ship during a lifetime at sea, pronounced them "hale and hearty" and "ready for a new ship as soon as we can get one."

The James Jones, a 90-foot, 80-ton freight carrier, caught fire Monday, cracked open from three explosions, and burned furiously for 17 hours before going to the bottom.

For two days no one knew the identity of the flaming craft or whether her crew had escaped. A Pan-American Airways pilot had reported seeing an open boat making for shore but a search failed to find it.

Collins and his men rowed ashore here Tuesday night. "We're sure grateful to be back on land," he said today. "We had a good sleep and we were filled with good food."

NEW SEWER SYSTEM SERVES GORGE FIRST

Area Will Be Among First Completely
Connected Up With $2,000,000 System

The Gorge area will be among the first districts to be completely connected up with the $2,000,000 sewage system which is now being installed in Saanich, it was learned from the Saanich engineering department today.

Two shovels, and pipe laying crews are now operating in the Gorge area, but they are not expected to complete the work there until next year.

Another shovel and pipe laying crew is making good progress on Tolmie Avenue, it is reported.

Although it is possible for some residents to connect up with the sewage system already installed none so far have made the change-over. The sewage by-law gives residents four years to connect up with the system.

Meanwhile, work crews are making progress in cleaning up Colquitz and Swan Lake Creeks which in past years have inundated low-lying areas in the municipality. The work is being carried out under the $30,600 drainage by-law.

Crews have nearly completed work on a section of the Colquitz Creek which runs along Interurban Road. There is still a great deal of work to be done to the Swan Lake Creek.

Forgers Can't Fool All People, All Time

Handwriting expert Henry Mac-Lean told Kiwanians here Tuesday that 65 professional forgers and about 150,000 amateurs are responsible for losses in the millions on this continent annually.

The guest speaker, whose handwriting textbooks are standard fare in schools all across Canada, dealt primarily with anonymous letters in his talk and illustrated it with slides of sample writings from letters received by persons in Vancouver.

He said nearly 500 anonymous documents are circulated daily in the mainland city, many of them ignored but a few that require legal action.

In showing the slides, Mr. Mac-Lean pointed out how certain basic documents in a person's handwriting are bound to appear even though an attempt is made at disguise.

ELGAR CHOIR COMING HOME

Victoria Girl Sees Spots Famed in Sects' History

(A concert in Scotland's capital city of Edinburgh and a visit to Robbie Burns' home culminated the overseas summer tour of B.C. Elgar's Choir. The singing group is now homeward bound aboard the liner Franconia. Here, in the ninth of a series of articles written especially for the Times, choir member Kitty Dixon of Esquimalt tells about the choir's farewell to Britain.)

By KITTY DIXON

Visits to Edinburgh, Scotland's picturesque capital, and Dumfries, an historical, quaint Scottish town, brought the Elgar Choir's 1952 British tour to a conclusion.

The bowl in Edinburgh's attractive Princess Street Gardens was the scene of our concert in that city. We gave afternoon and evening performances and also attended a concert of the U.S. Army Field

Band there.

Because our visit occurred at the time of the Edinburgh Festival, we found crowds of people wherever we attempted to shop along Princess Street, which is considered to be one of the world's finest shopping centres.

The Duke of Edinburgh was in the city for the opening of the festival, and on several occasions we were able to catch a glimpse of him.

Although we spent just one day in Dumfries, it was a full one. We lunched with the Lord
Provost and members of the Dumfries Rotary Club, and spent the afternoon seeing such historic sites as Robbie Burns' home and the spot where Robert the Bruce slew the Red Comyn.

In Liverpool, once more, we were given a dinner and were taken to see a delightful presentation of Shakespeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream." Our host, Mr. Douglas Martin, came to the ship with us the next day to say good-bye and wish us bon voyage.

Aboard the R.M.S. Franconia we are all looking forward to the day we land in Quebec and begin the Canadian tour, which will bring us home to British Columbia.

ISLAND DIGEST

LADYSMITH, Aug. 27—Fire Chief Frank Jameson and a crew from Ladysmith Volunteer Fire Department are practising steadily for field trials to be held at Campbell River on Labor Day. In 1950 the Ladysmith department won the Allan Cup for competition among Vancouver Island fire departments, but lost it last year.

COBBLE HILL, Aug. 27—The

PORT ALBERNI, Aug. 27—A wood fuel shortage is looming here, in the heart of the west coast lumber industry, because of recent cool weather that drained reserves already depleted by the idle summer. Mayor Loran K.
Jordon has called a special meeting of the city council and mill officials to find a solution to the problem.

QUALICUM BEACH, Aug. 27—
C. D. Ovens, general secretary of the B.C. Teachers' Federation, said today at the closing session of the week-long workshop at Qualicum College that response proved local associations are eager to continue the project next year.

Delegates from the several associations discussed major education problems, and will report back to their own groups im-

LADYSMITH, Aug. 27—A Comox Logging & Railway Co.
boom man, Lorne Thompson, 44, was severely burned Tuesday when a boom boat on Na-mako Lakes caught fire as he started the engine.

He was treated at Ladysmith Hospital for extensive superficial burns about the face and hands.

NANAIMO, Aug. 27—Hugo
Lestander, Ladysmith, was sentenced to serve 35 days when

NAVY LEAGUE PRIZE TO SON OF COMMODORE

The son of Commodore Hugh Pullen of Halifax has won a $600 Navy League scholarship to Royal Roads Armed Services College at Esquimalt.

He is Hugh F. K. Pullen, one of five winners of scholarships to Royal Roads or the Royal Military College at Kingston, Ont.

Bonner's Remarks On Early Session Slip of Tongue?

Was Attorney-General Robert Bonner's statement to the 34th annual conference of the Commissioners on Uniform Legislation a slip of the tongue or did it have some significance?

In welcoming the delegates
Tuesday the Attorney-General said he hoped to be able to present some of the legislation suggested by the conference to the "session next spring."

He then quickly added, smilingly: "Or earlier, or whenever there is a session."

The group, representing all Canadian provinces, is meeting here for five days for the first time since 1938.

Highway traffic legislation will be dealt with by one section of the conference, and another group will discuss the draft revision of the Criminal Code, lotteries, installment payment of fines, and juvenile delinquency.

C. R. Magone, Q.C., Ontario's deputy attorney-general, is presiding.

Don't postpone making your will

Do you realize without a will two-thirds of your property may go to your children — not your wife?
That a will should be checked often (especially if you move) ... that it's best to have more witnesses than you need?

In September Reader's Digest
Jerome Beatty tells how to be sure your wishes are carried out when you're gone — how to avoid the confusion, injustice and, sometimes, serious want so often the result of estate settlement.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Between Times Handy Guide to Summer Bachelors, or How to Welcome Your Wife Home With Minimum Danger to Life and Limb.

On night before wife is due home, resolve to leave office early, go home and clean house.

On way home, drop by golf club, but only for minute, to see how Good Old Joe stands in ladder handicap.

Find Good Old Joe has moved up three rungs. Decide Good Old Joe would be hurt if you refused to join him for just one quick one.

Three hours later explain to Good Old Joe you have to go home, clean up house before wife gets back.

Good Old Joe insists on helping. So does Good Old Bill and Good Old George.

(This proves you are a shrewd operator, getting household work done free.)

At this point you must be firm. Bundle Joe and Bill and George into car, speed home before they can change minds.

Once home, make scrambled eggs and bacon to give you and friends strength for household chores.

Be careful to scrape burned bacon into remote corner behind refrigerator, safe from detection. Break dishes after using; it is obviously impossible to clean off egg batter.

Put Good Old Joe to work in basement, packing empty sarsaparilla bottles in cases.

Give Good Old George job of sweeping out kitchen. Get Good Old Bill to plug in vacuum.

Hear glad cries from Joe, rush to basement. Discover Joe has found case of FULL sarsaparilla bottles.

Shout news to Bill and George. Pay no attention to slight crashing sounds; these are only caused by George's broom falling through kitchen window and Bill's vacuum cord knocking over wife's prized lamp as he rushes to basement.

In basement hold discussion hour with your helpers. Theme of discussion: How helpless and inefficient women must be, to make such a fuss about a simple thing like cleaning house.

When discussion runs down, go up to kitchen and cook flapjacks for helpers. This is only fair, as they have worked very hard.

Get Joe (who is lightest) to stand on shoulders of George (who is tallest) and scrape pancake batter off kitchen ceiling.

Help Joe to his feet and extricate George's head from kitchen cabinet. Tell him not to worry; a little plastic wood will fix cabinet and wife did not like those dishes anyway.

Offer sleeping accommodation to friends, who are by now a little tired from all their hard work. Go to bed yourself on ironing board, which is only space left after friends are settled.

Next morning, wake up, look around kitchen and rest of house. Wake up friends, leave house, go to Ogden Point Docks, sign on Ss. Himalaya Maru as wiper, and bribe captain to cast off.

Console self that you've always wanted to see Orient, and wife will appreciate you more after a little absence to make the heart grow fonder.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE NOT TO BE SHUT

'Answer Is No' Says Premier to Query

British Columbia's new government doesn't plan closing Government House.

Asked today if he had any plans along this line, Premier W. A. C. Bennett replied: "The answer is no."

There has been speculation in some quarters that the Social Credit government might close Government House, maintained by the provincial government, in line with action taken by Alberta's first Social Credit government in 1935.

It is understood the Alberta closure was strictly an economy move, prompted by hard times existing when the Coedra took office.

Whether he won on the table or not, a pool game proved expensive for William G. Burrows, 1314 Finlayson.

It cost him $5 in city police court today.

After Burrows had pleaded guilty to a charge of parking more than 12 inches from the curb in the 600 block of Johnson, Prosecutor Alan Bigelow told the court that city officers found accused playing pool, his vehicle parked in a prohibited zone and three and one-half feet from the curb.

"Being that far from the curb certainly makes this case different from the usual," said Magistrate H. C. Hall. The fine was $2.50 above the usual levy.

That's How They Get the Name

It is tradition that any team coming out of Trail gets tagged the name Smoke-Eaters. The Trail softball team, champions of the West Kootenay League, is no exception and, left to right, Mushy Anselmo, Louis "Rube" D'Amore, "Fungo"

Mondin, Jim DeBiasio and Lloyd Murdock show how they gained the name. Trail meets B.C. Forest Products, Victoria city champions, at Central Park this evening at 6.15 in the first game of a best-of-three B.C. semi-final series.

Elevator Sale Hopes Rising

City May Gain 'Five Times as Much' As Previous Offer, Mayor Discloses

Two Canadian firms are interested in purchasing the city-owned Ogden Point grain elevator.

TEETH FOR FUEL BY-LAW MAYOR'S AIM

Mayor Claude Harrison is taking a personal hand in re-drafting Victoria's fuel by-law, to put teeth in the ordinance so that police action can be taken against dealers found to be giving customers short measure.

The mayor was working on the by-law today with City Solicitor Arthur Patton. It is his intention to frame the regulations in such a way as to assure citizens full value for their fuel dollar.

Mayor Claude Harrison said today the city stood to gain "five times as much" for the elevator as a $150,000 offer made by the U.S. firm of Ker, Gifford Ltd., present occupant of the elevator.

The mayor last week had to buck certain aldermen to prevent them from giving an option on the building to the American company for $150,000 when the offer came before council. Some council members took the view that the city should get rid of the building at any price just to get it back on the tax roll.

The mayor argued the elevators were a valuable asset and a quick sale to the first interested customer would be a mistake. He sent Ald. Waldo Skillings to Vancouver to seek advice and explore all avenue for possible sale.

"His trip had results," the mayor acknowledged. "I was sure that option would not have been good business."

The mayor declined to name the Canadian companies which are interested in the elevators but said they were sending men here to survey the elevators.

Mayor Harrison is optimistic that the day is not far off when trade between here and the Orient will be re-established on a large scale. Then, he says, the elevator will fulfill the purpose for which it was intended.

Mrs. Helen Taylor, Long Time Resident, Dies in Hospital

Mrs. Helen Atherton Taylor, past president of Chapter "E", P.E.O. Sisterhood, died at Jubilee Hospital early today.

A resident of Victoria for many years, she lived at 2408 Nottingham Road, the Uplands.

Mrs. Taylor is survived by her husband, at home; two sons, Grant-A., of Toronto, and Robert W., of Victoria; a brother, Harold Gaudin, Seattle; two grandchildren and a nephew.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 1.30 from Hawward's, with Rev. William Hills officiating. Interment will be in Ross Bay Cemetery.

City Turns Down $6,500 for Home

A bid to purchase the old Bone home at 1788 Rockland Avenue for $6,500 has been rejected by City Council's lands committee.

The bid was entered by C. E. Moore of 1588 Beach Drive.

The lands committee felt the price was too low and ordered new tenders to be called for the property. This time, the property will be offered in two parcels. Bids will be considered for the lot on which the old house is situated and on the corner lot at Rockland and Oak Bay Avenue.

ASK The TIMES

Q—Is there any difference in the meaning of the words further and farther?—Miss J. M. B.

A—Leading dictionaries recognize the words as similar. However, the best writers prefer to use the word further primarily to deal with distance.

Q—Why are all races, horse, human and car, run counter-clockwise?—Mr. N.V.N.

A—In the first place all these races mentioned are not run counter-clockwise. In Britain and Australia horse and auto races are run clockwise. Up until two or three years ago foot races at several colleges in Britain were run clockwise. It appears strictly to be a question of habit.

Q—My wife and I have made separate wills, leaving all we possess to each other. Later we drew up a joint will, in case we should both die at the same time. However, the latter declares it shall not become effective until both of us are deceased. I want to know what effect will the joint will have on a single will if either of us should die first.—Mr. J.K.V.

A—The Times wishes to point out that no attempt will be made to answer legal questions through this column. Our advice is to consult your family lawyer.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to the Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest.

POOL PLAYER'S SHOT CALLED BY MAGISTRATE

Whether he won on the table or not, a pool game proved expensive for William G. Burrows, 1314 Finlayson.

It cost him $5 in city police court today.

After Burrows had pleaded guilty to a charge of parking more than 12 inches from the curb in the 600 block of Johnson, Prosecutor Alan Bigelow told the court that city officers found accused playing pool, his vehicle parked in a prohibited zone and three and one-half feet from the curb.

"Being that far from the curb certainly makes this case different from the usual," said Magistrate H. C. Hall. The fine was $2.50 above the usual levy.

Holiday Travel Expected to Break All Records As Thousands Take to Road, Sea and Airways

Victorians are expected to spend the last big holiday of the year in Vancouver. An even greater number are expected to pass the week-end at summer and fishing resorts on Vancouver Island.

The influx of visitors from up-island, Vancouver and Seattle will also be heavier than usual, advance bookings at hotels and auto courts indicate.

The B.C. Coast Service reported large holiday crowds will be traveling from Victoria starting Saturday.

TAXED TO LIMIT

Vancouver Island Coach Lines officials reported their transportation system will be taxed to the limit but would be able to take care of the holiday crowds moving in and out of Victoria.

Coach Lines officials feared, however, that the transportation problem may be complicated on Monday by hundreds of loggers returning to work.

Trans-Canada Air Lines said they are being "swamped" with bookings.

"Actually the holiday starts Thursday for some people," said an official. "Air traffic will be on the increase starting tomorrow."

AIRCRAFT CROWDED

T.C.A. officials said they will break all travel records by air this week-end. "On Friday, 2,184 persons will be transported by air to and from the mainland in 10 operations. Flights to Vancouver may be further increased if bookings continue to swamp the traffic office, they said.

There will be a large movement of holiday crowds in and around Victoria.

The North and South Saanich Agricultural Society fall exhibition at Saanichton is expected to attract thousands of visitors Saturday and Monday. The fair will feature a horse show, Highland sports events and thousands of horticultural exhibits.

CROWD ATTRACTION

Another big attraction which is expected to draw crowds is the speed boat racing to be held at Cordova Bay Monday starting at 1 p.m. The event is sponsored by the Victoria Inboard and Outboard Motor Boat Association.

On Sunday there will be a cricket exhibition match between the "Rest" and the city's representative team. The city team will play Vancouver on Monday. The match will start at 10 a.m. and will continue throughout the day.

There will be auto races Saturday night at Shearings' Speedway, Cowichan Bay Road, starting at 7 p.m.

The British Columbia Archery Tournament will be held over the three days, starting Saturday at Rangers' headquarters park, Happy Valley Road.

Baseball is also expected to fill the stands. There will be games at 2.30 and 8 p.m. Saturday between Victoria and Salem. On Labor Day there will be a double-header starting at 1.30 p.m.

The salmon derby of the newly-formed Esquimalt and District Anglers' Association, opening at noon Friday and closing Monday night, is open to the public.

Victoria Shipyards To Bid on Greek Job

Yarrows Ltd. and Victoria Machinery Depot are today preparing bids for another major ship repair job at Government Graving Dock, Esquimalt.

The Greek freighter Ss. Eugenia Chandris was docked early this morning, her bottom plates on the port side torn for two-thirds of her length. She scraped over an uncharted reef off the Aleutian Islands a week ago, and was opened up as though a giant can-opener had eaten into her plates.

At noon, marine surveyors had not yet ascertained the full extent of damage, but it was believed that at least three weeks will be needed for repairs.

Capt. M. Andreadis told The Times that his ship was returning light from Japan when she struck the reef. He believes she caught the outside edge of the obstruction, because she was thrown sharply to starboard, and her propeller escaped damage. The rock twisted the foot of her stern, then tore into her bottom plates from about 20 feet aft of the bow to a point near the stern.

Eugenia Chandris was not in serious trouble, because she was holed only in the deep tanks, and the sea was comparatively calm on her way down the coast.

When she was drydocked for survey by Yarrows Ltd., a residue of oil in her tanks covered the bottom of the dock, and before accurate survey could be made, workmen had to clean out the foot-deep scum. Sawdust was used to absorb some of the oil.

Bids for the repair job will be in Thursday morning, and it is expected that the contract will be announced shortly after.

According to evidence given, all equipment had been inspected before unloading operations began that day.

Mild Temperatures To Continue Here

A high pressure ridge offshore from Vancouver Island promises clear skies tonight and Thursday, according to weather forecast.

Early fog, similar to that over the city this morning, will be "burned off" as the sun rises, the weatherman said. Temperatures will be mild and winds light, he said.

The weather office expects some cloud Thursday night from a small storm now over the Alaska Panhandle, which will cross the northern interior.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Deputy lands minister George Melrose will address the Oak Bay Kiwanis Club Thursday at 6.15 p.m. in the Oak Bay Beach Hotel. His talk will deal with the technical assistance mission to El Salvador.

Damage was not extensive Tuesday night when cars driven by Mrs. Erma G. Landberg, Tacoma visitor, and Albert Kirkbride, 2205 Chambers, were in collision at Gorge and Garbally, city police reported.

Cmdr. C. P. Nixon, of Kentville and Victoria, has been appointed executive officer of H.M.C.S. Magnificent, Canada's aircraft carrier.

He will succeed Capt. H. L. Quinn, of Victoria and Vancouver, who will attend a special course at National Defense College, Kingston.

Variety in Lunch Box
Important for Children

By PENNY SAVER

With the children starting back to school next week a lot of mothers will once again have to start packing a lunch.

The younger kiddies will love the lunch kits patterned with Hop-a-Long Cassidy. This kit is equipped with a half-pint thermos and sells for $3.69.

Another lunch kit for the same price is the flat style with handy handle for the young ones to hold. This also has a thermos and will carry a good-sized lunch.

Something new for the school children is the plastic lunch bag with a zipper top and two convenient handles, also a thermos. This is also priced at $3.69.

Now we are all set with a lunch box. It doesn't end there. The school child and the working members of the family who can't get home for lunch need special attention. Unless varied from day to day, the carried lunch can become a boring thing—and lunch time an uninteresting period.

Variety, not only in the foods in the lunch box, but in the forms in which they are served is very important. Sandwiches for example may be varied from day to day by using different types of bread or rolls or by cutting them in different shapes.

Just because one kind of filling is a favorite is no excuse for serving it until the child is tired of it. Even basic fillings, like egg, peanut butter and cheese can provide infinite changes with the addition of different seasonings or added ingredients.

Pack the lunch box so that it looks attractive. Neat packages and a colorful paper napkin add to the general appearance. Small lidded plastic or waxed paper containers are excellent for salads and desserts... or wide-mouthed, screw-top jars of six or eight-ounce capacity may be used.

Don't pack cookies which are too fragile and will crumble, or cakes with soft, sticky icings which may lose their eye appeal.

Practically everyone likes a pleasant surprise. So tuck a special tidbit into the lunch box frequently. This might consist of a small package of nuts, raisins, dates or favorite candy.

Desserts help to add interest to the carried lunch and may include fresh fruit in season to be eaten out of hand or a mixture of diced fresh or canned fruits sweetened with sugar or honey.

Baked custard cookies in individual custard cups may be covered with waxed paper and will carry well. Vary the custard by adding nuts or dates, coconut, banana, or flavor with chocolate or cocoa.

Following is a recipe for sandwich filling made with hard-cooked eggs and peanut butter. It goes well with cabbage salad, fruit and cookies, and would serve equally well for the lunch box or lunch served at home:

EGG-PEANUT BUTTER SANDWICH FILLING

Half cup peanut butter, one-third cup salad dressing, three hard-cooked eggs, chopped, two to three tablespoons chopped olives or sweet pickles, salt and pepper to taste.

Combine the peanut butter and salad dressing, then blend in the chopped egg and olives or sweet pickles. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Add more salad dressing if necessary to make a good spreading consistency. Spread thickly between buttered bread. Makes enough for six sandwiches.

Shoes Important In School Picture

While junior may flinch at the multiplication table when school reopens, there is one problem he may escape entirely—pinched toes.

Shoemen report that parents are taking greater care than ever before to have their children properly shod. While mother may lengthen May's skirt and Johnny's cuffs, she makes sure that the children get new shoes to accommodate their summer's growth.

During their vacation most children have grown. Their feet alone may have increased by a full size. By letting them "make do" with outgrown footwear a parent may seriously injure the child's feet and posture, warns the shoe information bureau of Canada.

Back to school time, says the bureau, means that it's time to make children's feet safe. A strong and sturdy shoe with a rugged sole is needed to give security to young feet and ankles. While the heel should be snug,

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Be Sure You Don't Confuse
Beauty and Attractiveness

I have an interesting letter from a reader in front of me. It says:

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"How can girls of average or less than average looks overcome a feeling of inferiority aroused by the almost universal preference of men for exceptionally attractive girls?"

"It has been my observation over a long period of time, and in many places, that men worship beauty. They are delighted with the beautiful girls who are in the minority."

"I often wonder how it must feel to be one of them—they receive so much attention and admiration."

This is a letter of tremendous interest to my readers, I know, because beautiful girls and women are really quite rare when compared to women as a whole.

In the first place, do not allow beauty and attractiveness to become confused in your mind. Attractiveness does not depend at all on classic beauty. Some of the most attractive women and some who were famous for their magnetism and charm and sway over men were far from beautiful.

Beauty is window dressing, that's all. Of course, we would all choose it if we could because people are drawn to beauty in any form, whether it be a flower, a tree, a sunset, a painting, music or a woman. However, the true beauty has a handicap because she is so apt to rely on it alone and fail to develop an understanding outgoing attitude and those traits of personality which are the real lure.

I do not say that physical attractiveness is not important, but that it is within the reach of any woman who is willing to work for it. If you have an offending mole on your cheek, have it removed. If your hips bulge, reduce them. If your posture is poor and you are awkward, work to improve those conditions.

Learn about makeup and clothes and hair styling. These can make such a great difference. Be one of those women who are meticulously groomed. Do all of these things because then you will be better able to release your real self out of the prison of self-consciousness. Also, people know us first through our physical appearance.

In the last analysis, a lack of self-consciousness, a keen awareness of those about us and of life in general, a sense of humor, good health which shows itself in a bubbling spirit, tenderness and understanding and sympathy are the ingredients which produce and hold admiration and love.

Be a realist in that you do all you can to build health and physical attractiveness to your best level and then forget about it. Haven't you seen the handsome man who is so devoted and attentive to the seemingly mousey wife? There is plenty of reason for it, you can be sure. No doubt she is stimulating and tender and is comfortable to live with. She is also probably gay.

TODAY'S RECIPE

GRAHAM CAKE

One-half cup shortening, ¼ cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 3—teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoons salt, 2 cups Graham flour, ¼ cup milk.

Cream fat until fluffy; gradually cream in sugar. Add beaten eggs and vanilla and beat thoroughly, until light and creamy. Add baking powder and salt to flour, mixing thoroughly, and add a third at a time alternately with milk, combining lightly. Bake in a greased 8"x8" cake pan in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F. for 40 to 45 minutes. Serve hot with butter and honey or maple syrup. Yield: one cake, 8"x8".

AS WE LIVE

Happiness Comes First
In Care of Aged Mother

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, Ph.D.

Generally the daughter or daughters of the family assure the burden of caring for an elderly parent. Unfortunately, they resent carrying this burden alone. That problem is making life difficult for the elderly mother whose daughter wrote:

(Q) "For 15 years, my mother lived with me while my two brothers contributed nothing to her support. Five years ago, one brother moved two doors away from me and Mother went to live with him. He has no children, my sister-in-law works, and they are very comfortable. My sister-in-law and mother had a terrific fight about a month ago and Mother was sick in bed afterwards. Now, Mother spends most of her time at my house. Our lease will soon be up and we will have to take a smaller home so I will have no place for Mother to stay with us. My husband feels that it's the sons' turn to take care of Mother now and that I have done my share. What do you think?"

(A) In a situation where human happiness is involved, I think that the person's happiness is far more important than anything else. Unquestionably your mother is not happy in your brother's home. I question whether she would be any happier in the home of her other son.

Of course your brothers should do their share. The 15 years you gave to her care is unquestionably more than your share. I doubt if she will live long enough to enable your brothers to do an equal amount for her.

But you certainly do not want your mother's last years to be unhappy on a question of fairness.

Why not have our two brothers and their wives meet with you and your husband to discuss this whole problem? Tell them how much it will cost to care for your mother, and how much extra rent will be needed to provide a room for her when you move. Ask them if they will assume all financial responsibilities for their mother for the rest of her life, if you assume the responsibility of caring for her. This would take care of the problem of her happiness without putting an extra burden on your husband's shoulders.

If you have a problem about family or friend, ask Dr. Hurlock to help you. Write in care of this newspaper.

You can easily introduce a salad into the lunches your children will carry to school. Finger salads like this—a few whole ripe olives, some carrot sticks and a cheese stick or two carefully wrapped in waxed paper or foil are favorites with children of all ages.

Miss Marshall an Honor Guest

Miss Edith Moir, 140 Beach Drive, entertained recently at a shower honoring September bride-elect Miss Julia Marshall. A gardenia corsage was presented to Miss Marshall, pink roses to Mrs. T. Marshall and pink carnations to mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. Denis Hagar. Mrs. Hagar and Mrs. Marshall presided at the attractively-appointed tea table, which was centred with a bouquet of summer flowers. Guests were Misses Marion Jones, Virginia Dalby, Beverly Carter, Diane Heaney, Mary Stevenson, Beverly Martin, Maureen Quig, Natalie Bugrya, Beverly Luff, Edna Houstain and Mrs. P. A. Moir.

A California Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Turnbull and their son John are leaving on the weekend-end for a month's holiday in California. They will travel by car and on return will go to their home in Trail. Their daughter, Miss Margaret Turnbull, will stay in Victoria.

Shower Has Hawaiian Motif

Home of Mrs. A. D. Straith, 2760 Burdick Avenue, was setting for a dessert party and cup and saucer shower honoring Miss Janet Straith Tuesday evening. Co-hostesses were Mrs. D. A. Hewitt and Miss Elenore Straith, who will be a bridesmaid at the Straith-Stuart wedding. The refreshment table, at which Mrs. George Straith presided, was decorated in a Hawaiian motif, with a centre-piece of wood roses and coral encircling a grass hat. Gifts were presented informally by the guests, among whom were Miss Straith's mother, Mrs. William T. Straith, Mrs. W. Morrill Jr., who is to be matron of honor, and her mother, Mrs. K. C. Leith.

Future Work in Trail

Miss Barbara Hobbs has come from Vancouver to spend a vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hobbs, "Woolston," Cadboro Bay, prior to going to Trail, B.C., where she has accepted a position in the social service department of the provincial government.

Ada Essery Honored

Mrs. A. Stevens was hostess at a shower last evening to honor Miss Ada Essery, September bride-elect. A corsage of carnations was presented to the guest of honor and gladioli to her mother, Mrs. M. Essery, and mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. R. Panting. Gifts were concealed in a box decorated pink, green and white. Guests included Mesdames J. Carosella, J. Essery, C. Essery, S. G. Essery, A. Baxter, P. Mobey, G. Ritchie, G. McKay, H. Wesley, S. Dukes, E. Smith, M. Ritchie, Misses J. Dukes, J. Baxter, Masters Brian Wesley and Charles Essery.

Miss Phyllis Harwood Feted

Mrs. J. L. Hobbs and Miss Barbara Hobbs entertained Tuesday evening at a miscellaneous shower at "Woolston," their Cadboro Bay home, to honor Miss Phyllis Harwood, whose marriage takes place this week-end. Clever clues led the honor guest on a treasure hunt throughout the house to find her gifts. Corsages were presented to her and to her mother, Mrs. J. Harwood. Mrs. Ernest Whitaker presided at the refreshment table which was covered with a hand-worked linen cloth and centred with a silver bowl of easter daisies, white gladioli and silver fleece. The same white flowers were repeated in decorations in the rooms. Other guests were Mrs. F. Hobbs, Mrs. R. Williams, Mrs. B. Badger, Mrs. F. Harwood, Mrs. E. R. Harwood, Mrs. H. F. Bourne, Mrs. A. Feltus, Mrs. G. Soutar, Mrs. A. Harwood, Mrs. G. Harwood, Mrs. L. Corke, Mrs. F. Sampson, Mrs. S. T. Coats, Mrs. J. Dempster, Mrs. Sampson, Mrs. R. Peterson, Mrs. G. F. Peat, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. V. Bengtson, Misses Beth Williams, Jean Harwood, Mary Rainsford and Etta Evans.

Honored at Farewell Parties

A series of farewell parties have been held recently to honor Mrs. A. J. Cowie, who is leaving shortly to make her home in Penitence. Last week Mrs. W. Gilmour was hostess at a luncheon at the Victoria Golf Club to honor Mrs. Cowie. Invited guests were Mrs. M. Schaaf, Vancouver; Mrs. W. Stanley Moore, Mrs. Len Acres, Mrs. R. Shaw, Mrs. Stanley Haynes, Mrs. C. McLaughlin, Mrs. Maurice Green, Mrs. George Duck, Mrs. Ronald Newell and Mrs. Fred Hawes. Mrs. Duck and Mrs. Green were co-hostesses recently at a coffee party in the Transit Road home of the latter. Guests numbered 20. Mrs. Cowie and Mrs. C. R. McGillivray, who is leaving to make her home in Agassiz were honored when members of Chapter E, P.E.O. Sisterhood, entertained at the home of Mrs. Charles Goodwin, Ash Road, Gordon Head. Presiding at the tea table were Mrs. P. B. Scurrah, Supreme Chapter president, and Mrs. F. W. Hawes, Chapter E president. Guests numbered 23. Also a hostess in honor of Mrs. Cowie was Mrs. Percy Scurrah, who entertained at a canasta party in her King George Terrace home.

The following Victorians have been holidaying at Qualicum Beach Hotel: Dr. and Mrs. Gordon C. Kenning, Lt.-Cmdr. and Mrs. J. D. Laurie, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. O'Shea and daughter, Mr. Ernest Belton, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Pangman, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Proctor, Miss V. A. Phipps and Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Robertson.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Martin have as their guest at their View Street home, Miss Ellen Donaldson, who has come from Winnipeg for her annual two-week vacation.

Miss Chum Veitch, who has spent the summer in Victoria with her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. John Roe, Cadboro Bay, is leaving this Thursday for her home in London, Ont.

Out-of-town guests at the recent wedding of Marjorie Ellen Dupont and Theodore Leo Jansch were Mrs. M. E. Dupont, grandmother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. J. Silvey and son, James, Santa Paula, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Waines with Arlie and Garth, and Miss Margaret Dobson, Vancouver.

Lieut. and Mrs. William Patton, with their two children, Susan and Bruce, are leaving this week-end for a three-week holiday in Winnipeg. While there they will visit Mrs. Patton's father, Mr. George Lockey, in Bissett, Man.

At Famed Hatley Park as a Youth

One of the first visits made by Lord and Lady Willingdon during their stay in Victoria was to the castle and grounds at Royal Roads, where Lord Willingdon was a guest in the days when it was Hatley Park, the home of the Dunsmuir family... and when his father was Governor-General of Canada. Today Lord and Lady Willingdon left for Port Angeles and Mount Rainier Park. They will return to Canada and go on to Jasper, Toronto and New York, from where they will sail for South America and later for England. They have been guests at Oak Bay Beach Hotel.

Going to Hawaiian Islands

Miss Diana Ritchie, daughter of Mrs. J. Norman Ritchie, Marine Chalet, Oak Bay, and Miss Gloria Davies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Davies, McNeill Street, are leaving Victoria on Saturday for San Francisco, from where they will sail aboard the President Cleveland for Hawaii, to take staff positions at the Lehigh Hospital in Honolulu. Miss Ritchie is a graduate of St. Paul's Hospital, Vancouver, and Miss Davies of the Royal Jubilee Hospital in this city, where both girls have been members of the staff in the past two years.

Mrs. Henry Mark and Miss Faye Lee were co-hostesses at a miscellaneous shower Tuesday evening at the Lansdowne Road home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kim, to honor Miss Mary Lum. A pink rose corsage was presented to the honor guest and pink gladioli to her mother, Mrs. Y. C. Lum. Gifts were arranged in a large wishing well and guests each threw a penny in the well to give the bride-elect good luck. A buffet supper was served from a table covered with an ecru lace cloth and centred with a tall silver vase of summer flowers flanked by silver candelabra holding green candles. The hostesses presided at the tea and coffee urns. There were 35 guests.

Mrs. J. G. Stewart, Campbell River, arrived in the city last week-end to attend showers planned in honor of her daughter, Miss Mavis Stewart, whose marriage to Mr. Richard Moore takes place Saturday. She is the guest of her sister, Mrs. S. H. Shaw, Arm Street.

SEES SISTER FIRST AS A GROWN WOMAN

CALGARY, Aug. 27 (CP)—Two sisters who had never before seen each other were united here with the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Larsen of Quebec City, when Mrs. Larsen met Mrs. Elizabeth Darling of Yorkton, Sask.

The father of the two women came out west from Quebec in 1916 but his eldest daughter—now Mrs. Larsen—remained in Quebec City and was married there. His younger daughter, Mrs. Darling, was born after her parents had settled in Alberta. She married in the west and has never traveled east.

Occasion for the trip west and the long-awaited family reunion was the recent retirement of Mr. Larsen, sea captain husband, of the Quebec sister.

Series of Showers Honor Bride-Elect Of Next Month

Miss Amy Harness, whose marriage to W. B. Baker takes place in Banff on Sept. 3, was honored recently when members of her bridge club, gathered at the home of Miss Anne Adamson, Southgate Street, to present her with a hand-embroidered Madeira linen luncheon cloth and matching napkins. The bride-elect was also presented with a flame-toned gladioli corsage. Those present included Mesdames H. Mitchell, J. Hampton, P. Watts, R. McConnell, W. Summerfeldt, J. Court, Misses Joyce Whitehead and Laura Sheret.

Miss Harness was also honored at an after-five party in the home of Mrs. John Hicks, Olympia Avenue, when members of the Junior Auxiliary to B.C. Protestant Orphanage presented her with a Moorcroft bowl and a corsage of pink roses.

At the tea hour recently, the September bride-elect was honored when Mrs. C. Joyce entertained at her home, 1774 Armstrong Street. A gladioli corsage was presented to the guest of honor on arrival by her hostess. The guests were Mrs. M. Harness, Mrs. D. Taylor, Mrs. J. Wallace, Mrs. K. Sturrock, Mrs. R. Johnson, Mrs. J. Harness and Misses M. Neilson, P. Christian, E. Creeden, M. and A. Harness, A. Adamson, L. Sheret, L. Creeden, J. and L. Harness.

Medical Students Wed In St. Mary's Church

Newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Leo Jansch, who are both third-year medical students at the University of British Columbia, are honeymooning in the Gulf Islands following their marriage Saturday in St. Mary's Anglican Church.

Rev. H. Bolton officiated for the former Marjorie Ellen Dupont, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold John Dupont, Metehosin, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo P. Jansch, Chemainus.

Pastel shades of gladioli and marguerites decorated the church and Mrs. Gavin Weir, Metehosin, played organ music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace over satin and her veil was held in a beaded tiara. She carried an heirloom prayer book dated 1841 belonging to her great-great-grandmother. It was topped with a spray of coral rosebuds. She also wore a gold bracelet with emeralds and pearls, gift of her grandmother, Mrs. M. E. Dupont.

Miss Margaret Dobson, Vancouver, her only attendant, wore a floor-length gown of Alice-blue taffeta and carried a bouquet of gold roses.

Robert Jansch, Chemainus, was best man, and ushers were Ronald Broussou, Metehosin, and Arthur Roy, Chemainus.

Telegrams of congratulation from England and Vancouver were read at the reception in the parish hall. The bride's table was decorated with pink sweet peas and candles and centred with a three-tier wedding cake. The hall was decorated with pink and white gladioli. Albert Cox, Victoria, proposed the toast.

For traveling the bride chose a gray tulle with blue accessories.

December-Born Child Income Tax Hardship

OTTAWA, Aug. 27 (CP).—W. S. Fisher of the income tax appeal board, in a judgment made public Tuesday, urged parliament to consider at its next session an apparent injustice against par-

Also, family allowances are paid only until the age of 16, so that parents of December-born children can claim a deduction of only $150 a year, or 17 years.

Parents of children born in any month get a $150 a year deduction for 16 years and a $400 deduction in the 17th year when the child goes off the family allowance rolls.

Mr. McMurray claimed a $400 exemption for a daughter born December 25, 1950. The income tax department cut the deduction to $150 on the ground that the child was "eligible" for family allowance payment.

Pro-Communist Writers Spreading Propaganda on Radio, TV, Charged

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (AP)—A senate sub-committee report said today that pro-Communist script writers are spreading "subtle" propaganda over radio and television airwaves in the United States.

"The thing is subtle," the report of the senate internal security sub-committee quoted script writer Ruth Adams Knight as testifying at closed hearings.

Miss Knight said pro-Communist writers stop short of "laying down the party line" in their scripts, but skillfully weave into them "a constant derision of the capitalistic system."

In testimony quoted by the sub-committee, Miss Knight and Welbourn E. Kelley denounced Ira Marion, a one-time script writer for Voice of America anti-Communist propaganda broadcasts beamed to Israel. Both swore that in private life Marion is an identifiable pro-Communist.

The sub-committee in its own findings, however, treated the Voice broadcasts cautiously. It said simply that members of the Radio Writers' Guild, of which Marion is a former president, "write for the Voice of America and the United Nations radio sec-

DRIVER UP FOR TRIAL

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 27 (UPI)—Robert Stavos, 30-year-old bus driver involved in an accident which took seven lives at St. Norbert, Man., July 3, was expected today to be committed for jury trial.

Magistrate D. G. Potter indicated the committal of Stavos Tuesday at the end of a preliminary hearing.

Stavos, the driver of a bus which ploughed into the rear of a parked truck, was charged with criminal negligence for failing to exercise reasonable care and precaution.

Killed in the accident were Bert Miller and his wife of Winnipeg, Gladys McIntyre, also of Winnipeg, Mrs. Dorothy Bund and her 12-year-old daughter, Zena, of Troy, O., L. N. Rosemann of Minneapolis, Agnes J. McHale of St. Paul and Mrs. Levina Rice of Delhi, Ont.

U.S. Trio Played Hero Role in Gaining Old Baldy

WITH THE U.S. SECOND DIVISION, Korea, Aug. 27 (AP)—Three soldiers of the United States 2nd Division may have turned the tide in the bloody battle for Old Baldy, the strategic hill in western Korea where Allied troops are dug-in "for keeps."

A sergeant, a corporal and a lieutenant were credited today with clearing the way for 2nd Division troops to drive the Reds off the crest.

The 23rd Infantry Regiment's company was pinned down by heavy Communist mortar and artillery fire on a finger of the hill.

Cpl. Victor Espinoza and his squad leader snatched up hand grenades and charged toward the crest, hoping to knock out some of the Red guns. The rest of the company gave supporting fire.

The squad leader was hit on the way up. Espinoza administered first aid and stormed back up the hill. This time Lieut. W. F. Vaughn, his platoon leader, went with him.

Together they knocked out two bunkers and Espinoza silenced a machine-gun with his rifle.

"It was so dark you couldn't see the Chinese until you were only a few yards from them," said Espinoza. "Sure was a funny feeling to be close enough to hear them breathe and not be able to see them."

Rebel Holcomb, a tall 325-pound platoon sergeant, also managed to move to the top. He began firing at the Chinese with a flame thrower.

The sergeant said the Reds "defended that hill like it was their last rice paddy."

Vaughn was wounded and from then on it was Holcomb and Espinoza. They threw every hand grenade they had and when their supply was exhausted they picked up enemy grenades and tossed them. They went from bunker to bunker," said Espinoza. "We knocked out mortars, machine-guns, burp guns and everything they had, I guess."

Two enemy counter-attacks were thrown back during the night and made the 23rd Regiment confident it was on top of Old Baldy to stay.

Nine Escape Death

Nine men escaped death when 18-year-old bush pilot Bob Shinnie of Winnipeg landed this Bellanca float plane on one float in a stubble field near Riverton, Man. The other float was damaged and a water landing was impossible. The plane skidded 75 feet on the single float then flipped over. Keith Jonasson, eight, examines the wreckage.

Mawhinney Defeated In Canadian Golf

WEST VANCOUVER, Aug. 27 (CP)—Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver, 1950 champion, today was bounced out of the Canadian amateur golf tournament by a veteran Dick Moore of Vancouver, who won 2 and 1. Moore, 17th with par fours and the first won the British Columbia amateur title in 1927.

Mawhinney was obviously playing under difficulties. He has been suffering a lame back for two weeks. He said he felt stiff and had to shoot with his arms without putting his body into it. The two were even after nine holes. They halved from the 10th to the 14th. On the 15th Mawhinney missed a four-foot putt for a one-over-par five to Moore's par. Moore won the 16th with a par three and they halved the 17th with par fours and the match was over.

Vic Painter, Victoria, won his third round match from Richard White, Vancouver, 5 and 4. Frank Scroggs, Victoria, was beaten by Nick Weslock, Windsor, Ont., 5 and 4.

GIRL KILLED WHEN TWO BICYCLES IN COLLISION

Reds Encircling West—Dulles

Truman Administration's Foreign Policy Charged With Being 'Shockingly Immoral'

Compiled From UP and AP Dispatches
BUFFALO, N.Y., Aug. 27—John Foster Dulles charged the Truman administration today with conducting a foreign policy which is both "shockingly immoral" and a strategic failure. It would permit Russia to encircle and enfeeble the west, Dulles said.

The Republican foreign policy advisor made two broad criticisms of American policy in a speech prepared for delivery before the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association:

That over-concentration on the defense of western Europe is "suicidal" and plays into Stalin's hands for the purpose of both strategy and propaganda.

The policy of "containment" of Russian-dominated territory has "contained" only American influence and can "snuff out" the internal resistance which is the best means to break up the Communist empire.

He quoted President Truman, Mutual Security Administrator Averell Harriman and his own presidential candidate, Dwight D. Eisenhower, in support of his belief that "our nation today stands in the greatest potential danger it has ever faced."

"As things are going now," Dulles said, Russia will succeed in encircling the west "to such a degree that it would have little will or capacity to resist."

The only alternative way to stop Soviet Communism, he said, was by a "frightful head-on collision."

Dulles said the Soviets traditionally believed the "road to victory in the West" lay through Asia—particularly China—and that non-Western and non-white peoples could not be treated as "second-class expendables" if the West wanted to survive in a free world.

"That would happen if our nation would today exert the same type of influence in the world that we exerted during the first century of the republic. At that time we symbolized freedom, and we gave moral and sometimes material support to those elsewhere who sought liberty."
